

MSI Special Seminar

Education for Sustainability

Prof. Stephen Sterling

Centre for Sustainable Futures, University of Plymouth, UK

10:00–11:00 am, Wednesday, 29th September 2010
Monash Sustainability Institute, Building 74, Clayton

All welcome. No RSVPs necessary.

Summary

This special MSI seminar will feature Stephen Sterling, Professor of Sustainability Education and Associate Director at the Centre for Sustainable Futures in the University of Plymouth, UK. Professor Sterling is one of the world's leading scholars in education for sustainability at both the theory and practice levels.

His research interest is in the interrelationships between ecological thinking, systemic change, learning, and sustainability, and in particular in how higher education institutions can be transformed towards a culture of sustainability through a programme of systemic change across the four dimensions of Curriculum, Campus, Community and Culture.