

Bernie Singleton Scholarship

Bernie Singleton has had a career in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander affairs spanning fifty years and was Chairman of Apunipima Cape York Health Council for 13 years.

Bernie grew up in Yarrabah. His paternal grandfather was a Yirrikanji man whose country runs from Cairns to Port Douglas. His paternal grandmother was an Umpila woman whose land is a part of the KULLA Land Trust and runs into the Lockhart River Land Trust. His maternal grandfather was a Bindal man (Townsville) of the Birri Gubba tribe while his maternal grandmother was a Woppaburra woman from Great Keppel Island. Bernie also has family connections all over Queensland.

When Bernie was elected Chairman of Apunipima there were only 15 employees and the organisation was on the brink of closure. His stewardship saw Apunipima scope and develop its role as a community controlled health service. One of his greatest achievements was in 2004 when he was instrumental in securing a Deed of Commitment from the Cape York Regional Health Forum to develop a community controlled health organisation in Cape York. Shortly afterward, Apunipima began to deliver Maternal and Child Health services, Healthy Lifestyle services and medical services across 11 communities in Cape York.

During his 13 year tenure as Chairman, Bernie also ensured that Apunipima was an active member of NACCHO and QAIHC, national and state peak bodies for Aboriginal and Islander health.

In 2018, Apunipima:

- Has 250 employees - over half of whom identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander;
- Is governed under ASIC;
- Operates community controlled, nationally accredited primary health care centres in Mossman Gorge, Aurukun, Coen and Napranum and the Atharpuch Family Health Centre in Kowanyama;
- Operates Social and Emotional Wellbeing Centres in Aurukun, Coen, Mossman Gorge and Hopevale.

Bernie operated with a clear mandate from community and made it clear to everyone that everything Apunipima does is for the people of Cape York.

"Our approach is for the people by the people and is based on a grass-roots approach rather than a top down approach, and this is where the key difference is for our services. We believe that the health system needs to change if it is not resulting in better outcomes for our people."
