

HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE UNIT Research Seminar

October 2021 Research Seminar

“Sharing the same experiences as your research participants: lessons learned for consumer and community involvement”

Presenter: Danielle Berkovic

Dr Danielle Berkovic is a Research Fellow in the Health and Social Care Unit (SPHPM). She works on prioritising consumer and community involvement across a range of chronic illnesses, including osteoarthritis and dementia.

Danielle’s PhD examined the work and financial impacts of arthritis on working-age populations, and was the first to qualitatively examine financial distress in this population.

She has also worked on projects across a range of other chronic conditions, including cardiovascular disease and critical illness.

Danielle is interested in using innovative mixed-methods to understand the epidemiology of chronic disease, and to enhance the delivery of patient-centred care.
