10th Molecular Pharmacology of G Protein-Coupled Receptors Meeting

2–4th December 2018

MONASH INSTITUTE OF PHARMACEUTICAL SCIENCES

Melbourne

The Molecular Pharmacology of G Protein Coupled Receptors (MPGPCR)

2018 will see the 10th iteration of the MPGPCR meeting. The MPGPCR meeting covers recent developments in the field, with key presentations from leading researchers from around the world. This is a focused and intimate meeting, emphasising novel concepts in GPCR pharmacology and drug discovery. The meeting provides a relaxed interface between students, postdoctoral fellows, academic and industrial scientists from around the globe that encourages interaction, collaboration and debate on the latest research in the field.

Why participate?

- Network directly with professionals
- Network with the professionals of the future (students)
- Increase corporate, brand or product awareness
- Showcase your services or products in a relaxed atmosphere.

Who is attending?

This meeting will bring together leading national and international researchers in the fields of:

- GPCR cell signalling
- GPCR structural biology
- Molecular pharmacology
- Translational science
- Drug discovery
- Chemical biology

Meeting venue: Monash Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences (MIPS)

Located on the “Parkville strip”, MIPS is within the heart of Australia’s top health and biomedical precinct and is ranked number 2 in the world in Pharmacy and Pharmacology. Surrounded by parks (Princes Park and Royal Park), MIPS is just a short tram ride from central Melbourne and within walking distance of the vibrant inner-city multicultural suburbs of Carlton and Brunswick.

We would be delighted to discuss sponsorship or exhibition opportunities.

Our aim is to ensure that delegates walk away from the meeting feeling inspired and uplifted and that our supporters receive the most exposure from their support of the MPGPCR 2018 Meeting. Please contact the 2018 organising committee to discuss the following or any other sponsorship opportunities in further detail.
