Family violence is any violent, threatening, coercive or controlling behaviour that occurs in current or past family, domestic or intimate relationships.

Someone who is experiencing family violence may experience one or multiple types of violence, such as:
- physical abuse
- controlling or dominating behaviour
- spiritual or religious abuse
- stalking
- emotional or psychological abuse
- intimidation or threats
- verbal abuse
- financial abuse
- social abuse
- sexual abuse
- reproductive coercion
- damage to property

Monash University is committed to supporting students and staff who experience family violence.

What can I do?

Ensure safety
If you believe there is an immediate risk to yourself or another person, call:
- 9905 3333 for Security on campus
- 000 for an emergency off campus

Seek advice
You can seek confidential advice from Safer Community Unit. We’ll help to:
- keep you safe
- connect you with the most appropriate support services for your situation
- give you information on your formal reporting options so that you can make decisions that are right for you
- assist you with the reporting process, if you decide to make a formal report

How do I help someone else?
If someone you know has experienced family violence, you should encourage them to discuss the matter with Safer Community Unit, who can provide them with information, advice and support specific to their circumstances.

Safer Community Unit can also provide advice for you to pass on, and they can also help you with any support you may need.
