HSCU RESEARCH SEMINAR

26 JULY 2023

STRONG BOORAIS, STRONG COMMUNITIES

Karinda Taylor, is a Wamba Wamba woman and Chief Executive Officer at First Peoples' Health and Wellbeing (FPHW)

First Peoples' Health and Wellbeing (FPHW), is a culturally safe, trauma informed Aboriginal health service. With over 20 years' experience, working in various clinical, strategic leadership and management roles across Aboriginal community controlled health organisations, state government and regional and metropolitan hospitals, Karinda brings a genuine knowledge and understanding of, and an affinity with, Aboriginal culture, health, philosophy and practice.

Join HSCU as Karinda shares her organisation's collective passion and wisdom in the creation of Australia's first Aboriginal-led Early Parenting Centre (EPC). The Centre will enhance FPHW's holistic, wrap-around care of families and will enable Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children to thrive, and will demonstrate how critically important self-determination and cultural safety are for generational change.
