POLICY STATEMENT

Principles

1. The University recognises a student's right to make complaints and is committed to addressing complaints and grievances effectively and fairly.
2. The University aims to address complaints and grievances through a resolution process that:
 - a. is impartial and fair to all parties involved;
 - b. is carried out with transparency and consistency;
 - c. is accessible and available to all students;
 - d. is handled within established timelines;
 - e. respects the privacy of all parties involved;
 - f. is appropriate for dealing with complex and sensitive issues.
3. A student making a complaint or grievance has the right to a fair and thorough investigation, based on the principles of this policy.
4. A student may make a complaint or grievance without fear of reprisals.

Process for complaints and grievances

5. The resolution process for academic and administrative complaints and grievances is conducted in three stages:
 - a. Complaint - informal resolution process. Complaints are dealt with by a staff member close to where the complaint arose.
 - b. Grievance - formal resolution process. Grievances are investigated by designated staff members who have not had previous involvement with the complaint.
 - c. Review - internal review process conducted by the University Student Ombudsman. The University Student Ombudsman is appointed by the University Council and is independent of the university administrative structure.
6. To ensure quick and effective resolution the University strives to resolve complaints and grievances as close as possible to their source, with the people most directly involved.
7. The University may set limits on its handling of a complaint or grievance or discontinue any process if the student making the complaint or grievance engages in behaviour which because of its nature or frequency raises substantial health, safety, resource or equity issues or the complaint is frivolous, vexatious or lacking in substance.
8. Outcomes or decisions reached through application of complaints and grievances procedures must be achievable within University legislation and policies, and State or Commonwealth legislative requirements or other applicable legislation in countries where Monash campuses and teaching locations are situated.

Student responsibilities

9. A student making a complaint or grievance is expected to cooperate with the review of the complaint or investigation of the grievance. This includes providing all relevant information that the student has in his or her possession or knowledge at the time of making the complaint or grievance or as soon as possible thereafter. Failure to do so may result in the investigation or review of the complaint being discontinued.
10. A student making a complaint or grievance is expected to treat staff with courtesy and respect. Failure to do so may result in the investigation or review of the complaint being discontinued.
11. Only the individual student concerned may make a complaint or lodge a grievance under this policy.

Roles and responsibilities of staff

12. All University staff are responsible for
 - a. giving serious consideration to student complaints that relate to a decision, an event, any action or inaction that is within the responsibility of the staff member;
 - b. responding to student complaints in a timely manner and with courtesy and respect;
 - c. respecting the privacy of students making a complaint.
13. Grievance officers are responsible for:
 - a. receiving grievances and maintaining records of all related documents;
 - b. determining the nature of the grievance and directing it to the appropriate investigating officer;
 - c. maintaining a grievance register by recording and monitoring the number and nature of grievances received from students.
14. Investigating officers are responsible for:
 - a. determining whether an investigation of a grievance is necessary;
 - b. carrying out a fair investigation and negotiating a resolution, as required in each case.

The University Student Ombudsman ensures that the resolution of student grievances follows consistent procedures across the University and provides independent and impartial review of academic and administrative grievances.
