2 Authorising provision

These regulations are made under the Monash University Statute.

3 Commencement

These regulations come into operation on the day on which they are promulgated by being published on the University website.

4 Interpretation

- (1) The Dictionary at the end of these regulations defines expressions used in them.
- (2) Expressions used in these regulations have, unless the contrary intention appears, the same meaning as they have in the Monash University Statute as amended and in force for the time being.

Note

Under section 23 of the Interpretation of Legislation Act 1984 expressions used in University regulations made under the Monash University Act 2009 have, unless the contrary intention appears, the same meaning as they have in that Act as amended and in force for the time being.

- (3) A reference in these regulations to admission to a degree or other award is a reference to admission to a course of study leading to that degree or other award.
- (4) A reference in these regulations, in relation to a power of delegation, to the functions, powers or duties of a person or body is a reference to the functions, powers or duties conferred or imposed on the person or body by or under these or any other University regulations or by or under the Monash University Statute.
- (5) A reference in these regulations to the University as a location or to a university precinct includes, for a student admitted at any time before 1 January 2014 to a degree or other award being undertaken at the Gippsland campus, a reference to the Gippsland campus.
- (6) A note at the foot of a provision of these regulations forms part of the regulations.

Part 2—The Faculties

5 Establishment and membership of faculties

(1) The following faculties of the University are established:

- (a) Art, Design and Architecture;
- (b) Arts;
- (c) Business and Economics;
- (d) Education;
- (e) Engineering;
- (f) Information Technology;
- (g) Law;
- (h) Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences;
- (i) Science;
- (j) Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences.

Note

In addition to establishing a faculty, the Vice-Chancellor may make regulations abolishing or changing the name of a faculty. See section 31(4) of the Monash University Act 2009.

(2) The members of a faculty are:

- (a) the members of the staff of an Australian campus who are employed, other than on a sessional basis, in an academic position and:
  - (i) for whom the faculty is the most appropriate to their role; or
  - (ii) in the event of uncertainty or dispute as to which is the most appropriate, for whom the faculty is designated by the Vice-Chancellor as being the one of which they are a member; and
- (b) such other persons (if any), including persons who are employed, other than on a sessional basis, in an academic position at a location outside Australia, as the Vice-Chancellor designates as members of the faculty.

(3) Nothing in, or done under, subregulation (2)(b) has the effect of causing a person to whom it applies to be an employee of the University if they are not otherwise such an employee.

Note

Membership of a faculty is relevant to eligibility for appointment to various committees, panels and other bodies established under University regulations.

6 Functions, duties and accountabilities of deans

(1) Under the direction of the Vice-Chancellor, each dean has the following functions and duties:

(a) to lead and manage the academic and operational affairs of the faculty or sub-faculty (as the case requires) in accordance with University statutes, University regulations and University policies and procedures;

Example

Staffing and staff management, administration, budgeting, financial and resource management, workload allocation, occupational health and safety matters and other working conditions of members of staff.

(b) to establish appropriate structures and mechanisms for the efficient and effective governance and management of the faculty or sub-faculty (as the case requires), including the establishment of an executive group and other advisory bodies;

(d) to represent the faculty or sub-faculty (as the case requires) and the University to the external community;

- (3) References in subregulation (2) to a faculty include a reference to a sub-faculty.
- (4) The dean of a faculty, after consulting the relevant Vice-Provost, may appoint a deputy dean or associate dean or other suitable person as chair of any committee established for the purpose of subregulation (2) and may direct that the committee meet at intervals determined by the dean and provide a written report to the dean on its meetings.
- (5) Without limiting the kind of advisory bodies that he or she may establish, the dean of a faculty or sub-faculty must ensure that he or she has an advisory mechanism on which students are represented and, if appropriate, the external community is represented.
- (6) A dean of a faculty is accountable to the Vice-Chancellor for the carrying out of his or her functions and duties.
- (7) A dean of a sub-faculty is accountable to the dean of the faculty for the carrying out of his or her functions and duties.

Note

10 Quotas

- (1) The Vice-Chancellor may approve a limit on the total number of persons, or the number of persons falling within a particular category, who may in any year be admitted to a course of study or sequence of units of study or a unit of study offered by the University.
- (2) If a limit is approved under subregulation (1), the dean of the degree faculty:
  - (a) must select persons for the course of study or sequence of units on the basis of academic merit; and
  - (b) may select persons for a unit of study on the basis of the faculty's own requirements for enrolment in that unit.
- (3) A person may only be selected under subregulation (2) if they satisfy:
  - (a) the entrance requirements of the University; and
  - (b) the admission requirements for the course of study or the enrolment requirements for the unit of study or the sequence of units of study.

11 Restrictions on admission and graduation

A person is not entitled to be admitted or re-admitted to any course of study or enrolled in a unit of study or have a degree conferred on him or her or any other award granted to him or her:

- (a) while he or she is excluded from the University; or
- (b) while any money, including a fee, payable by him or her to the University or to a subsidiary of, or body affiliated with, the University and due for payment remains unpaid, unless the Vice-Chancellor otherwise directs; or
- (c) while any disciplinary proceeding against him or her or an appeal from such a proceeding is pending, unless the Vice-Chancellor otherwise directs.

12 Enrolment and payment of fees

Except as otherwise provided by any University statute or University regulation, a person must not pursue a course of study or unit of study unless he or she has:

- (a) enrolled in the form approved, and within the time and at the place specified, by the Vice-Chancellor; and
- (b) paid any relevant enrolment fees.

13 Enrolment, re-enrolment and cancellation of enrolment

- (1) The Vice-Chancellor may determine:
  - (a) the date by which a student accepted for admission to a course of study or enrolment in a unit of study must enrol; and
  - (b) the date by which a student previously enrolled must re-enrol; and
  - (c) a final deadline for late enrolment.
- (2) A student who fails to enrol or re-enrol by the date determined by the Vice-Chancellor must pay, in addition to the fees otherwise payable, a late enrolment fee of an amount determined by the Vice-Chancellor.
- (3) A student's admission to a course of study or enrolment in a unit of study offered by a faculty may be cancelled if the student:
  - (a) fails to enrol or to maintain enrolment in that course or unit in accordance with the requirements of the University; or
  - (b) is found by the dean of the degree faculty to have falsified or failed to disclose any of the following that would, if known, have led to the person's application for admission or enrolment being rejected:
    - (i) results of previous study;
    - (ii) evidence of English language skills;
    - (iii) any other qualification or achievement considered in determining the application for admission or enrolment;
    - (iv) the fact of his or her exclusion from the University or another university or another educational institution.
- (4) An application by a student for re-admission to a course of study to which his or her admission was cancelled under subregulation (3) must be considered in competition with all other applications for admission to that course in accordance with the normal selection processes of the University.

14 Refusal and cancellation of admission and enrolment

- (1) The dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee may refuse a person admission to a course of study or enrolment in a unit of study if:
- (a) the person has been excluded from admission to a degree or other award of the University or of another university or another educational institution:
    - (i) for reasons of unsatisfactory progress or inability to progress; or
    - (ii) because of the state of health or disability of the person in order to protect the health or safety of any person or the property of the University or that other university or educational institution; or
    - (iii) for reasons of discipline; or
    - (iv) for a combination of such reasons; or
  - (b) in his or her opinion the person's conduct would have provided reasonable grounds to take action to exclude him or her from the University for reasons of academic progress, health or discipline had he or she been a student of the University at the time of the conduct.
- (2) The dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee, if of the opinion that not to do so may place the University in breach of a law or a legal requirement, may:
- (a) refuse or cancel a person's admission to a course of study or enrolment in a unit of study; or
  - (b) cancel a person's application for admission to a course of study or enrolment in a unit of study.
- (3) The dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee, if of the opinion that it is necessary to do so to ensure compliance with a law or a legal requirement, may impose a condition on a person's:
- (a) admission to a course of study; or
  - (b) enrolment in a unit of study; or
  - (c) enrolment in a unit of study that is not a component of a course of study.

15 Deferment of a course of study

- (1) The dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee may permit a person who is offered a place in a course of study to defer the commencement date for that course for up to 12 months or, in circumstances the dean or the Committee regards as exceptional, for a longer period.
- (2) Without limiting the discretion of the dean or the Committee under subregulation (1), if deferment is sought for the purpose of engaging in study at another university or another educational institution, the dean or the Committee may determine that it is not appropriate to allow the person to defer.

16 Disestablishment of courses and units of study

- (1) The Vice-Chancellor, on his or her own initiative or on the recommendation of the Academic Board, may disestablish a course of study or a unit of study.
- (2) For the purposes of subregulation (1), the Academic Board may recommend the disestablishment of a course of study or unit of study for any reason including where it is of the opinion that standards of academic quality in relation to the course or unit are being breached or not maintained systemically.
- (3) If the Vice-Chancellor decides to disestablish a course of study:
  - (a) the dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee must stop admitting persons to that course, other than any who at the time of the decision had completed an approved pathway program or were undertaking an approved pathway program which they then subsequently successfully completed; and
  - (b) the Vice-Chancellor must determine the period during which the course will continue to be taught for the purpose of providing the students admitted to it with an opportunity to complete it; and
  - (c) the dean of the degree faculty or, in the case of a higher degree by research, the Graduate Research Committee must make any other necessary transitional arrangements.

Note

Part 5—Intellectual Property

22 Application

- (1) This Part applies to an international campus only to the extent that it relates to a student.
- (2) For the purpose of subregulation (1), a reference in this Part to an Act of Parliament is to be construed as a reference to the corresponding legislation, if any, in the place in which the international campus is located.

23 Intellectual property created by members of staff or affiliates

- (1) Apart from intellectual property created in whole or in part by a member of staff or an affiliate that otherwise vests in the University by law, the University owns all intellectual property created in whole or in part by a member of staff or affiliate in the course of his or her employment by, or appointment with, the University.
- (2) If a member of the academic staff or an affiliate creates a scholarly work that is owned by the University, the ownership of that work is, by force of this subregulation, assigned to that member of staff or affiliate subject to the following conditions:
  - (a) there is reserved to the University a non-exclusive, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable worldwide licence to reproduce, publish, perform, communicate to the public, disseminate or otherwise use, modify or adapt the work for:
    - (i) the University's teaching, education or research purposes; and
    - (ii) the purpose of making the work available by open access in accordance with the University's policies and procedures;
  - (b) there is signed by the member of staff or affiliate, if requested by the University, a consent with respect to the treatment of any moral rights subsisting in the work.
- (3) For the purpose of subregulation (2), if a scholarly work is created by 2 or more members of the academic staff or affiliates, assignment by force of that subregulation is to them as tenants in common in the shares agreed in writing by them.
- (4) If the University owns a copyright work by force of subregulation (1), the member of the academic staff or affiliate who created it is granted, by force of this subregulation, a non-exclusive, royalty free, perpetual and irrevocable licence to use it for his or her teaching or research purposes.
- (5) The University may make a written policy setting out the share of any payments received by the University, as a result of the University commercialising (otherwise than as an aid or tool for instruction in a course of study or unit of study) intellectual property owned by it by force of subregulation (1), to which the member of the academic staff or affiliate who created the intellectual property is entitled.
- (6) Unless the University and the member of the academic staff or affiliate who created the intellectual property otherwise agree, that member or affiliate is entitled to the share, as determined in accordance with the policy referred to in subregulation (5), of any payments received by the University as a result of the commercialisation of that intellectual property.

24 Intellectual property created by students

- (1) A student who participates in a collaborative research activity must:
- (a) assign to the University (or, for a student undertaking a course of study at an international campus, to the entity operating that campus) any intellectual property that he or she creates during his or her enrolment, excluding copyright in his or her thesis; and

Note

Entity is defined by section 38 of the Interpretation of Legislation Act 1984 as including a person and an unincorporated body.

- (3) If a higher degree by research student fails to give an assignment and consent under subregulation (1) within 14 days after being requested to do so in writing by the University, the University may prohibit the student from participating, or continuing to participate, in the collaborative research activity.
- (4) If, because of a prohibition under subregulation (3), a student is unable to continue with his or her enrolment, he or she must be given a reasonable opportunity to develop a new research project that is not a collaborative research activity.
- (5) The Graduate Research Committee may cancel a student's admission to, and enrolment in, a higher degree by research if the student fails to develop a new research project of a kind referred to in subregulation (4) within 60 days after the exercise by the University of its power under subregulation (3).
- (6) Any intellectual property created by a student otherwise than by participating in a collaborative research activity is owned by the student.
- (7) A student owns the copyright in his or her thesis.
- (8) Subregulation (7) does not affect any requirement of the Graduate Research Committee that applies to the thesis.
- (9) The University may make a written policy setting out the share of any payments received by the University, as a result of the University commercialising (otherwise than as an aid or tool for instruction in a course of study or unit of study) intellectual property assigned to it under subregulation (1), to which the student who created the intellectual property is entitled.

- (10) If the University commercialises (otherwise than as an aid or tool for instruction in a course of study or unit of study) intellectual property assigned to it under subregulation (1), the student who created it is entitled to the share, as determined in accordance with the policy referred to in subregulation (9), of any payments received by the University as a result of the commercialisation of that intellectual property.

25 Intellectual property created by visiting academics

- (2) The University is entitled to a proportionate interest in the intellectual property commensurate with its relative contribution.
- (3) If the University has a proportionate interest in a scholarly work created by a visiting academic, the ownership of that interest is, by force of this subregulation, assigned to that visiting academic subject to the following conditions:
- (a) there is reserved to the University a non-exclusive, royalty-free, perpetual and irrevocable worldwide licence to reproduce, publish, perform, communicate to the public, disseminate or otherwise use, modify or adapt the work for:
    - (i) the University's teaching, education or research purposes; and
    - (ii) the purpose of making the work available by open access in accordance with the University's policies and procedures;
  - (b) there is signed by the visiting academic, if requested by the University, a consent with respect to the treatment of any moral rights subsisting in the work.

26 Moral rights

- (1) The University recognises the moral rights of a creator in accordance with the Copyright Act.
- (2) If the University publishes or causes to be published a copyright work owned by the University by force of this Part, the University must act in accordance with Part IX of the Copyright Act when attributing authorship.

- (3) The University may request that a creator sign a consent with respect to his or her moral rights subsisting in a copyright work.

27 Obligation to execute documents

- (1) If required by the University, a creator must execute any document or do anything reasonably required by the University:

  - (a) observe the obligations of confidence; and
  - (b) on request by the University, sign a confidentiality agreement.
- (2) Subregulation (3) applies if:

- (6) The provision of evidence to the dean under this regulation does not prevent the dean from exercising any other power that he or she has with respect to admission, enrolment or re-enrolment.
- (7) The dean may vary or revoke a condition imposed under subregulation (2) or (5).
- (8) A condition imposed under subregulation (2) or (5) has effect with respect to all courses of study and units of study at the University.
