The Monash MBA invites applications from high-performing managers with a minimum of three years’ experience from a wide range of sectors and professional backgrounds.

Focus on next-generation problems
The Monash MBA emphasises new thinking and new business models for the next generation of successful enterprises. The program features innovation, design thinking, entrepreneurship & creative problem solving.

Global orientation & international experience
The program involves study of overseas markets with leading international business schools. The MBA community of students, professors and business partners comprise people from multiple nationalities and industry backgrounds.

The MBA of management practice
The hallmark of a successful manager is the proven ability to deliver value. Students will graduate with a portfolio of four consulting projects in Australian organisations.

Leadership and personal development
The Monash MBA enables students to develop critical leadership capabilities and personal style. Students learn to work in multidisciplinary teams to solve complex and ambiguous business problems.
The program is structured around four core modules:

1. Foundation
   - Leadership I
     - People & Performance
   - Business Models & Strategy
   - Markets & Customers
   - Financial & Managerial Accounting
   - Project I
     - Corporate Strategy
2. Innovation
   - Leadership II
     - Influence & Negotiations
   - Design Thinking
   - Commercialisation of Technology
   - Business Finance
   - Project II
     - Innovation & Entrepreneurship
The program content and experience integrate academic rigour and practical relevance. Leadership units are incorporated into each module. Subjects are taught in a highly-integrated program with students, professors and business partners combining expertise and experience in classroom, workshop and consulting settings.

Each module includes a supervised consulting project with business partners, providing real application opportunities. MBA projects generate deep insights into contemporary organisational requirements and build the management competencies necessary to lead the organisations of the future.

The Monash MBA Career Advancement Program (CAP) runs throughout the entire MBA. Students’ professional experiences and career goals are developed in a customised program, guided by the dedicated Monash MBA career services team.
