The Handbook

The handbook will provide you with your degree structure and the course requirements you have to meet to complete your degree.

It is important that you refer to the year in which you began your course: https://monash.edu.au/pubs/handbook

The Graduate Diploma of Laws section of the handbook includes:

- Course structure and unit requirements
- Learning Outcomes
- Alternative exits
- Progression to further studies.
The Structure

This is your course map for your first year of your course. This is the most basic structure you can follow, please refer to the handbook for additional unit options.

Full time study
  • 4 units per semester/ 8 units for the year

Teaching periods and modes

You will see in the postgraduate elective timetable that your units are offered across many different teaching periods (terms, trimesters and semesters).

The simplest way to manage your enrolment is to split the academic year by months rather than by teaching periods.

For example:

First half of the year ("semester 1") = January – June
Second half of the year ("semester 2") = July – November
Let’s Enrol!
Get Started

- In order to accept your offer and enrol you need to follow the steps in Get Started to create a computer account, register your details and then complete your online enrolment.

- Domestic students, you will need to create or retrieve your Unique Student Identifier (USI)

- All students must enrol for a full year but don’t worry you can amend your enrolment at a later stage.
Almost all amendments to your enrolment can be done via WES. Once you have registered your details you will be able to confirm your enrolment or add/remove units.

If you’re unable to enrol yourself please submit an Enrolment Amendment Form.

Tip! Your enrolment will only have been changed if you receive a transaction number that starts with the letter U. If you do not receive this, your enrolment has not been changed.
What’s Next?

Timetable

In order to choose your units for the year, you should refer to the timetable that is published online each year.

The timetable has information about when a unit is run, in which mode, by whom it is being taught, and a rough guideline of when you can expect assessment tasks.

After you are enrolled, your enrolled units will appear in the timetabling system Allocate+ so that you can keep track of when you need to attend classes.
What if I have credit or am applying for credit?

• It is important that you enrol in a standard enrolment in order to secure your place in your degree.
• Your enrolment can be amended after your credit application has been processed.
• You can apply for credit online for completed university level subjects.
• You can use the online search engine to search for previous credit decisions to give you an idea of what you may be granted.

Tip! If you are granted credit for Law units and are unsure of how to amend your enrolment you can request course advice online.
