

MONASH ARCHITECTURE PHD EXAMINATION

JACQUI ALEXANDER

DWELLING ON THE PLATFORM:
Housing Access and Equity in the Digital Society.

Through a series of speculative and critical creative works, Dwelling on the Platform: Housing Access and Equity in the Digital Society investigates how cultural and economic changes brought about by digital platforms and on-demand technologies are impacting the physical and social fabric of cities, in particular the home – the most elementary unit of the city, and a site at the centre of these transformations.

THURSDAY 27 APRIL

11.00AM

MADA GALLERY, CAULFIELD

Image by Warren Taylor

Supervised by Nigel Bertram, Alex Brown, Ari Seligmann.

ANTHONY CLARKE

ARCHITECTURE OF CARE:
Using an Auto-Ethnographic Design Approach to Rearticulate Practice.

This research establishes a care-focused methodology for the rearticulation of architectural practice. Three active architectural projects provide a means for testing and reflecting on an innovative methodological approach which brings together design research and autoethnography as a means to explore the relationships between project, process, architect and user.

THURSDAY 27 APRIL

2.30PM

MADA GALLERY, CAULFIELD

Image by U-P

Supervised by Nigel Bertram, John Gardner, Laura Harper.

MONASH ARCHITECTURE PUBLIC LECTURE

PEGGY DEAMER

FRIDAY 28 APRIL

5.30 – 7.00PM

BUILDING G1.04

REGISTER HERE