Plantness Pedagogies

An Online Symposium

Our Plants + Places + Pedagogies
Faculty Research and Scholarship Group invites you to a 2-hour online symposium

In this session we will explore what it means to take human-plant relations seriously in education and what are the world-making possibilities of plants and humans considering our lives depend on them greatly.

Presenters include:

- Associate Professor Dawn Sanders (University of Gothenburg) on the role of art in making visible "plantness"
- Dr Nnenna Okore, (North Park University Chicago) on bioplastics and art making process
- Associate Professor Irida Tsevreni (University of Thessaly) on ecophenomenology and human-nature relationships
- Glen Walton (Deakin University) Creative Director of Playable Streets
- Dr Rosie Welch (Monash University) session rapporteur and discussant on plantness pedagogies.

Together the presenters will explore educational approaches to noticing and working with plants and the critical role of these engagements for education and society as a whole.
