

MONASH LGBTIQ+ STAFF LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP

Expressions of interest are now open for a program designed to enable leaders from the queer community to explore what effective leadership looks like and how lived experiences shape the way we lead.

This bespoke program for staff is offered because queer leadership matters. It is proudly sponsored by the Staff Equity, Diversity and Inclusion team, Monash HR and delivered by Dr Bree Gorman (they/them), a proud member of the LGBTIQ+ community, and the Managing Director of Bree Gorman Consulting.

In this two-part program, participants will:

- Define and articulate what good leadership looks like through a strengths-based, values-led lens.
- Recognise and analyse the systemic and personal barriers that can limit leadership impact, with attention to the lived experience of queer leaders.
- Develop a personalised leadership roadmap to support growth over the next year.
- Build supportive peer connections that foster belonging, reduce isolation and enable ongoing mutual support.
