As we start living in a more globalised world, we’re not thinking about microcosms anymore. I don’t think of it as studying Ancient Egypt specifically, but human society more broadly.

DEAN ADAIR
Bachelor of Laws (Honours) and Bachelor of Arts (Honours)

If your ambition is to explore the world of ideas, cultures and places in an environment where you’ll be inspired, supported and challenged, then Monash Arts is the place to be.

We consistently rank in the top 1 per cent of universities worldwide for humanities and social sciences, so you’ll be graduating from a course recognised by employers as being exceptional.

You’ll be learning from leading experts who are helping to solve some of the world’s most pressing issues, from border control to international development. And while they may have international reputations, our academics are renowned for being approachable, friendly and keen for you to succeed.

Flexibility and choice are also reasons students tell us they prefer Monash Arts. Flexible course structures mean you can make the most of the amazing opportunities on offer.

You can complete a comprehensive degree with the Bachelor of Arts, allowing you to tailor your course to suit your own needs and interests as they develop. The outcome will be a degree that’s unique to you.

Or you can select one of our specialist degrees, choosing from the Bachelor of Criminology, Bachelor of Global Studies, Bachelor of Media Communication, Bachelor of Music or Bachelor of Politics, Philosophy and Economics.

Along the way you’ll shape your own future as you explore experiences such as studying overseas, internships, field trips, double degrees, 40 areas of study, and leadership, career and volunteering programs.

UNDERSTANDING THE TERMINOLOGY

Comprehensive degree
In Monash Arts, this refers to the Bachelor of Arts. A comprehensive degree gives you the choice and flexibility to select your units (subjects), and requires you to complete 24 units, including specific requirements such as completing an Arts major and an Arts minor.

Specialist degree
In Monash Arts, this refers to the Bachelor of Criminology, Bachelor of Global Studies, Bachelor of Media Communication, Bachelor of Music, and Bachelor of Politics, Philosophy and Economics. You need to complete 24 units, including specific requirements such as completing a specialisation. In a specialist degree, you start studying your chosen area of study straight away.

Areas of study
An ‘area of study’ is a field of knowledge – for example, literary studies or sociology. Areas of study are sometimes called ‘disciplines.’ See pages 23–34.

Major
A major is eight units from the same area of study. In the Bachelor of Arts you can choose to study one or two majors, and you don’t have to decide on your major straight away.

Minor
A minor is four units from the same area of study.

Specialisation
An Arts specialisation consists of 10–12 units and is a requirement of any of the specialist degrees.

Elective
There are eight units of free electives in your Arts course which can be taken from Arts, Business, IT or Science.

DOUBLE DEGREE OPTIONS
You’re spoilt for choice with more than 40 double degree combinations to select from.

BACHELOR’S/MASTER’S PROGRAM
Plan ahead and graduate with a bachelor’s and a master’s degree in four years. See page 10.

BE SUPPORTED
There are many ways to engage with university life and be supported. Our Peers, Ambassadors, Leaders (PAL) and First in Family (FiF) programs are just two examples of how we support you. See page 2.
YOUR LIFE AT MONASH

A world of opportunity.

University life is the start of an adventure, and with Monash Arts you’ll be inspired by the people you meet, the discoveries you make and the places you can go. Find out more: monash.edu/arts/student-life

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES
With over 100 groups to choose from, you’ll be sure to find your tribe.

CULTURE ON CAMPUS
Feel the vibe with live music performances, amazing food options and student club activities.

MONASH SPORT
Flex at our sporting centres and swimming pool.

STUDY IN STYLE
Late night hours in our stunning libraries make studying a breeze.

EASY RIDER
Our intercampus shuttle makes getting to class simple.

WORK IT OUT
Get a foot in the door and figure out your dream career path by taking advantage of Work Integrated Learning and internships.

FIRST IN FAMILY
Being a trailblazer can be scary. If you’re the first person in your family to go to uni, we’ll support you with academic mentoring and get you connected through social events.

BE A PAL
Our Peers, Ambassadors, Leaders program (PAL) offers support and networking opportunities for students while building skills in peer support, mentoring, teamwork and leadership.

BUILD YOUR BRAND
Kickstart your career through getting a byline in respected student publications like Mojo, Lot’s Wife and Esperanto.

GET CAREER READY

The future of work is human
By studying humanities, social sciences or the performing arts, you’ll gain a thorough grounding in the key skills sought by employers, including agility, lateral thinking and improvisation; skills that surpass automation and are relevant to all careers.

Written and verbal communication
You’ll develop strong skills in communication that enable you to express your ideas clearly, form an opinion, argue persuasively and think logically. You can even take electives in Academic and Professional Writing to increase your skills in language, writing and independent learning and further your understanding of professional communication.

Problem-solving and critical thinking
You’ll learn how to evaluate complex information, analyse the causes of a problem and suggest alternative solutions.

Research and interdisciplinary thinking
You’ll become a productive researcher, synthesising information from different resources in order to answer complicated questions. You’ll graduate with the ability to analyse problems from several different perspectives and arrive at a solution through recognising how each of the alternative approaches influences the others.

Leadership
Decision-making, time management and goal-setting are qualities you’ll develop during your course.

Career options
Our graduates go into as many career paths as there are majors. For example, there are linguists helping to improve the quality of life for the hearing impaired; social entrepreneurs helping people live more sustainably; and criminologists working on policy change in criminal justice. For more information about career options, see our areas of study section on pages 23–34.

INTERNSHIPS

Work in an organisation as part of your studies and get credit towards your course.

You could be working with a member of state parliament, building a school in a developing nation, working behind the scenes at a television station, or as a researcher with a non-profit organisation. The opportunities are endless.

Advantages of doing an internship
• You’ll gain valuable work experience that counts towards your degree.
• Apply what you’re learning in class to a real-world context.
• Gain valuable networking opportunities – you’ll link up with people who can give you advice and introduce you to groups and networks.
• Do an internship overseas and build your intercultural skills at the same time.

Places where our students have interned
• Global Poverty Project in New York
• The State Museum of Majdanek in Poland
• Mango Communications
• Live Performance Australia
• Channel 7
• Johannesburg Holocaust and Genocide Centre
• Ernst & Young
• Diageo
• Australian Embassy in Rome
• Melbourne Writers Festival
• American Chamber of Commerce
• Korean Consulate-General
• Penang House of Music in Malaysia
• Creative Innovation Global
• Melbourne Festival.

WHERE CAN I GO?

Arts study tours
Programs vary in length from two to four weeks. They’re taught intensively so you can complete a full unit in that time. Another bonus is that they run between semesters, which means you can continue to travel after completing your program and you could finish your degree sooner!

Some examples of what you could do include:
- creating journalism stories while joining the Engineers Without Borders study tour of Cambodia
- undertaking archeological fieldwork and excavation in Italy
- jamming with jazz masters in New York
- engaging with cultural identities while considering the key challenges they face in Cuba today
- mastering Mandarin in China
- comparing crime and social control in the USA, Asia or Europe
- unravelling genocide in Europe.

Arts Semester in Prato
Make the Monash Prato Centre your European study base. Close to Florence in the picturesque landscape of Tuscany, the Monash Prato Centre is located in the beautiful 10th century Palazzo Vaj right in the centre of Prato.

The program is flexible, immersive and enriching. Divided into three-by-four-week intensive blocks, you can study for the full 12 weeks or take the option of including some travel time and study for four or eight weeks. Embrace the opportunity to learn from some of the world’s most renowned international scholars as you study fascinating subjects such as:
- intensive Italian language
- cultural diversity in contemporary Europe
- the Renaissance in Florence
- global connections: understanding cultural literacy.

Intensive language programs
Studying overseas as part of your language major is a great way to immerse yourself in your chosen language and culture. Monash Arts offers a variety of faculty-led and endorsed language programs available to language students for credit.

Intercampus exchange to Monash Malaysia
Established in 1998 in Bandar Sunway (18 kilometres from Kuala Lumpur), Monash Malaysia is Monash’s first international campus. Intercampus exchange to Monash Malaysia is available to all Monash Australia students, provided they have room within their course.

Exchange to a partner institution
An exchange program involves studying with one of our partner universities around the world. You can go on exchange for one or two semesters. Financial assistance is available and there are no extra tuition fees. You can choose from more than 150 universities in 30 countries.

Study Abroad
If your preferred overseas destination is not a Monash partner university, you can still choose to go there on Study Abroad. You’ll pay the host university’s tuition fees for the time you’re there, and you’ll still be able to access financial assistance to support your travel.

GLOBAL IMMERSION GUARANTEE

The Monash Arts Global Immersion Guarantee (GIG) is a ground-breaking initiative that will enable you to explore first-hand the relationships between society, technology and the environment. It’s a two-week, funded study trip for all first-year Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Global Studies students to one of five international destinations – China, India, Indonesia, Italy or Malaysia.

GIG is about innovating and putting your degree into practice by responding to some of the world’s biggest challenges. Engage with people and organisations already working on these issues, and you’ll have the opportunity to gain an understanding of the complexities and challenges involved in implementing sustainable and innovative solutions – all skills your future employers will look for.

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Our world needs graduates who thrive in an era of uncertainty and change. In the Monash Bachelor of Arts you’ll cultivate your intellect, foster your passions and develop your capacity to ask the questions and find the solutions required to transform our world. We support you to become enterprising and passionate advocates for social change.

The Bachelor of Arts is designed to give you maximum flexibility and choice. You can choose from more than 40 areas of study to build a genuinely transformative experience. The course is built around deeply enriching experiences, and via your elective units, offers you four signature elements through which to develop your unique graduate profile. You can choose from local and international internships, professional engagements and entrepreneurial opportunities, and the choice of more than 50 global immersion programs, preparing you to live and work in complex and culturally diverse environments, while building a community of like-minded peers.

The major
Eight units make up your major. These units are from the same area of study – for example, anthropology, French studies or politics. There are many units to choose from but there are also some compulsory units. These are called gateway, cornerstone and capstone units, which have been designed to help you consolidate your learning so you can get the most out of your major.

Gateway: a first-year foundation unit introducing you to the major.
Cornerstone: a second-year unit that focuses on making sure you have a solid grasp of your major.
Capstone: a third-year unit where you demonstrate advanced knowledge of your major.

This could be a supervised research project or an internship with an industry partner.

The minor
Four units make up your minor. They’re all from the same area of study, but this will be different to your major. There’s one, sometimes two, gateway units in your minor, but no cornerstone or capstone.

Arts electives and signature elements
You’ll complete four units of Arts electives of which a minimum of two units will be from the signature elements options:

Global immersion: Broaden your knowledge and life experience by participating in the GIG, one of our other short study trips or a semester-long program.

Intercultural expertise: Learn to recognise your own cultural values and biases, and build skills to thrive in globalised work places and communities.

Professional experience: Through industry internships and placements, create networks and skills for your career development.

Innovation capability: Cultivate an innovation mindset as you develop your creative and enterprising abilities.

Free electives
These are eight units that can be from Arts or another Monash course. You can structure these to suit your interests – for example, you could add a second major which gives you two areas of expertise.

Taking advantage of the flexible structure
While there are aspects of the course structure that are fixed, (i.e. you must complete a major, a minor and four other Arts units), there’s still plenty of flexibility. That’s because we want you to take advantage of the choice and opportunities we offer, but it also means you can design the course to suit your needs and interests as they evolve. Some examples of what we mean by ‘flexible’ are:

• you can decide your major in second-year
• you can start your minor in second-year
• you can use the eight free electives to make up a second major, two minors, a minor plus electives, or just electives. These can be from Arts, Business, IT or Science.

Studying a Bachelor of Arts has been such an exciting roller coaster. By majoring in Chinese studies, I have been able to marry my passion for performing with my interest in language.

Through my studies, I have found a community of like-minded students that are making waves with their background in Arts. The highlight of my Arts degree would definitely have to be the people that I met on my recent trip to China.

DOUBLE DEGREES

Multiply your opportunities and become an expert in two fields by choosing a double degree course. This allows you to study towards two different bachelor’s degrees at the same time, providing you with more career flexibility and opportunities.

A double degree doesn’t mean double the work; in fact, it takes two years less to complete than if you studied the courses separately. A typical double degree takes four years and comprises 92 units, 56 from each course. Some double degrees are longer — for example, the Bachelor of Laws (Honours) and Bachelor of Arts combination takes five years.

DIPLOMA OF LANGUAGES

DIPLOMA OF LIBERAL ARTS

An Arts diploma allows you to take additional studies in Arts while completing any Monash single or double Bachelor’s course.

What is a diploma?

A diploma is an additional course of study taken alongside your bachelor’s degree. It’s the equivalent of eight units, which make up a major. You’ll cover first, second and third year units. Diplomas are taught alongside your degree and add an extra year of study.

Who’s eligible?

Students from any Monash faculty who are studying a bachelor’s single or double degree.

Why study a diploma?

By studying a Diploma of Languages or a Diploma of Liberal Arts, you will:

- Diversify and deepen your skills and knowledge
- Expand your career options
- Continue with an area of study you have a keen interest in, or try something completely different.

Diploma of Languages

This diploma allows you to study Chinese, French, German, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Korean, or Spanish. There are different entry levels so you can commence as a beginner in the language or with a language background.

Diploma of Liberal Arts

Expand your studies by choosing any Arts area of study available as a major, except for languages.

Applying for entry

You can apply for entry to either of these diplomas only after you’ve accepted your offer into your main course at Monash.

BACHELOR’S/MASTER’S PROGRAM

With Monash Arts you can graduate with a bachelor’s and a master’s* degree in just four years. After completing two years of your bachelor’s course, and providing you’re a high-achieving student, you can take master’s-level units as your electives in third-year.

You then complete the rest of your master’s course in fourth-year. You can match your Monash Arts bachelor’s degree with a master’s degree in:

- Applied Linguistics
- Bioethics
- Communications and Media Studies
- Cultural and Creative Industries
- International Development Practice
- International Relations
- International Sustainable Tourism Management
- Interpreting and Translation Studies
- Journalism
- Public Policy
- Strategic Communications Management.

The benefits

At Monash Arts we’re committed to providing you with as many opportunities and as much flexibility as possible to allow you to maximise your study options. The Bachelor’s/Master’s program allows you to:

- Fast track your studies and graduate with an undergraduate and postgraduate degree in just four years – instead of five
- Take advantage of the most extensive Bachelor’s/Master’s offering in Australia
- Make yourself more employable with two degrees and specialist knowledge
- Save time and save on fees.

How it works

Step 1
Enter any Monash Arts single bachelor’s degree (Arts; Criminology; Global Studies; Media Communication; Music or Politics, Philosophy and Economics)

Step 2
Follow any major or specialisation sequence and successfully complete two years of study (full-time equivalent)

Step 3
During your final semester of your second year of the bachelor’s degree, as a high achieving student, you are invited to apply to transition into your chosen Arts master’s degree

Step 4
Once accepted into the program you will commence your master’s units during the third year of your study

Step 5
You will complete one more year of master’s units

Example course map showing the Bachelor’s/Master’s program, using the Bachelor of Arts as an indicative structure.

*Bachelor’s/Master’s program students have access to both undergraduate and graduate level Arts internships offered by many providers across Australia and globally.

I see the master’s degree as a necessary qualification in an age of credential inflation and highly competitive globalised job markets. The master’s qualification also opens up networking opportunities within Victorian and Australian tourism industries, which are invaluable in such a competitive job market."

BACHELOR OF CRIMINOLOGY

Improve responses to crime and criminally.

Criminology is the study of crime and social control. Crime – how we define it, how we understand its causes and the ways we respond to it – provides a window into society’s challenges, values and aspirations. This course offers students a world-leading program delivered by a team of outstanding teachers and researchers.

You’ll consider the local, national and global aspects of crime and justice, and become familiar with a range of lenses for understanding and assessing the impact of society’s changing responses to crime and justice. You’ll gain an understanding of victimisation and perpetration, inequality and its impacts, and approaches to understanding crime. Throughout the course you’ll develop your capabilities via the key themes of expert knowledge, global reach and focus, and collaboration and innovation.

Expert knowledge

With its own advisory board, the Bachelor of Criminology brings into play the advice and dynamic perspectives of industry experts, meaning our students benefit from current insights into industry developments.

You’ll learn about crime committed by individuals, groups, organisations and states, and the mechanisms of the criminal justice system, including police, courts and corrections. Options are available to develop knowledge of specific criminal concerns, such as sexual violence, gendered violence, punishment, criminal justice processes, marginalisation, drugs, cybercrime, risk and surveillance, victimisation and perpetration, youth crime, and crime prevention and transnational justice practices.

Global reach and focus

Throughout the course you’ll be challenged to apply abstract knowledge to real-world problems of crime and justice, and develop solutions.

You’ll also have the opportunity to travel internationally and meet criminal justice experts from across the world through a selection of exclusive field trips.

The field trips offer a truly immersive learning experience to complement the academic knowledge you’ll gain in class, allowing you to engage in context and gain a genuine understanding of the human realities behind the study of criminology.

Collaboration and innovation

Through multiple opportunities for engagement with industry, you’ll gain the experience needed to be workplace ready. In the professional project unit, you’ll work closely with our industry partners, opening up new pathways and opportunities for your career, and capping off your criminology study by bringing together your knowledge and skills in your final year. The professional project features real-life scenarios, and your work will be assessed by both academics and industry experts.

Further opportunities and internships are available to you through Arts internships, both in Australia and around the world, so you can get hands-on experience while you gain study credit.

The Bachelor of Criminology can be paired with the:

• Bachelor of Arts
• Bachelor of Information Technology
• Bachelor of Law (Honours)

BACHELOR OF GLOBAL STUDIES

If you aspire to become a leader in creating social change, then the Bachelor of Global Studies is the course for you. You’ll learn how to critically analyse global challenges facing cultures and communities around the world, and how to apply your knowledge to these challenges and devise imaginative and well-informed solutions to help solve them.

The Bachelor of Global Studies has many exciting features, including core units on leadership development, project-based learning, internship placements with industries and organisations who are leading advocates for social change around the world, a broad range of electives that train you to think across different disciplines, an overseas study component, and the option of doing a double degree with Laws (Honours), Science or Commerce.

Overseas study
Integral to this course is overseas study that can be completed across a full semester or taken intensively. You could take units offered at a Monash international location, join in one of our many study tours, or study at one of our prestigious partner universities. It’s compulsory to take at least three overseas study units, but you can take more if you want. With partnerships with more than 150 universities worldwide, our study centre in Prato, Italy, and a campus in Malaysia, you’re spoilt for choice.

Engaging with industry
With its own advisory board, the Bachelor of Global Studies is in a unique position to draw on the advice and perspectives of industry experts. The board consists of professionals from diverse backgrounds with direct links to business, government and the social sector. They provide vital guidance, advice and feedback to inform our program development and to ensure the course delivers the best outcomes for you.

Double degrees
The Bachelor of Global Studies can be taken as a double degree with the:
- Bachelor of Commerce
- Bachelor of Laws (Honours)
- Bachelor of Science.

Double degrees allow you to combine two areas of interest and gain expertise in both. As a graduate you’ll have greater career flexibility, and because the double degree is completed in a shorter time than two single degrees, you’ll be saving time and money.

Internships
There are many opportunities within the course to take an internship, where you can apply your knowledge to a professional work environment and gain valuable experience and insights into the ‘real-world’ environment. Internships are available with a wide range of organisations and count as credit towards your degree.

Course structure
Three core units on ‘Leadership for social change’: These units are exclusive to the Bachelor of Global Studies and are taken over three years. You’ll learn about forms of leadership, drivers of social change and how to apply your learning in practical and professional real-life contexts.

Classes are mainly workshops where you’ll engage in problem-based learning and develop skills in creativity, teamwork, cross-cultural collaboration, critical thinking, self-learning and analytical writing.

Twelve units from one of the following specialisations:
- Cultural competence
- Human rights
- International relations
- International studies.

Eight free elective units:
With these units you can study units from Arts or from another area such as Information Technology, Science or Business. You could also use these electives to do an internship or study overseas.

SPECIALISATIONS

Cultural competence
Extend your studies of leadership, culture and globalisation by focusing on communication across cultural borders. By studying one of eight internationally important languages – Chinese, French, German, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Korean or Spanish – you’ll deepen your cross-cultural skills and knowledge. All languages are available for beginners through to those with proficiency. You’ll also study topics such as managing intercultural communication, and the skills you build will enable you to apply your knowledge in real-world contexts.

Human rights
In the era of globalisation, one of the most important concepts in international affairs is human rights. What are human rights? Are human rights culturally relative? How can human rights be justified? You’ll learn how human rights help to address issues such as global poverty, unequal access to medicine, warfare, terrorism, children’s rights, humanitarian intervention, torture, surveillance and more.

International relations
What are the dynamics of global politics and economics? Gain an understanding of the relationships between political institutions, international organisations, and governmental and non-governmental actors. Grasp evidence-based explanations to study war and conflict, development, financial and other crises at a global level. You’ll undertake in-depth study of topics of contemporary significance such as terrorism and political violence, global governance, international security and foreign policy.

International studies
In order to be competitive in the international marketplace of products, ideas and knowledge, we need to understand how people experience different cultures. International studies develops this understanding by exploring the issues and events that have shaped and continue to shape our world. You’ll examine such diverse topics as the role of cities as drivers of change, migrant and refugee experiences, power and poverty, and tradition and popular culture. In doing so, you’ll develop a solid understanding of European and Asian cultural studies, and of networks of relations between Europe, Asia and Australia.

Learning in different contexts in different countries enriches the learning experience so much. Students work together as a team to tackle some of the world’s most pressing issues.”

BACHELOR OF MEDIA COMMUNICATION

A degree for today’s media world, the Bachelor of Media Communication addresses the growing demand for graduates with new and diverse skills in communication, and a critical understanding of how media influences our lives.

You’ll be part of a new generation of thinkers and future-driven media and communication professionals who’ll challenge convention and devise solutions that’ll take us into the next century.

Graduate with a portfolio that will make you stand out
You’ll develop your practical experience and work-ready skills to build a portfolio of real work throughout your course. This could be projects such as a documentary, short film or digital marketing campaign, depending on your interest area. The result is tangible pieces of work you can take out and show to potential employers.

What you’ll study
The course comprises core units, a specialisation and electives. You can tailor it to suit your interest by choosing your specialisation and electives. In your final year you can do either an internship or a professional project.

Double degrees
The Bachelor of Media Communication can be paired with:
• Bachelor of Business
• Bachelor of Business Administration
• Bachelor of Design
• Bachelor of Fine Art
• Bachelor of Marketing.

Internship
If you’re interested in gaining valuable work experience, you can apply for an internship through our extensive network of industry partners within Australia and around the world. The internship runs in the final year of your course. It’ll give you the opportunity to build networks and make contacts for your career development.

Free electives
There are eight free electives in the course. That means you’ll have the flexibility to take units from another discipline within Arts such as politics or a language or from another faculty such as Business, IT or Science. These electives will complement your specialisation and add diversity to your skill set, making you stand out from your peers.

Core units
Media challenges
This unit addresses the great media challenges of our time. Learn how to critically analyse and think strategically about how to tackle today’s problems, as well as those that lie ahead.

Communicating in the digital era
Become proficient in areas such as video production, broadcasting, news reporting, advertising and social media. Learn to combine critical skills in digital literacy with practical skills in media production to develop your overall digital knowledge.

Media communication practice labs
With our purpose-built media labs, you’ll have the opportunity to experience what it’s like to work in a professional media environment right on campus. Experiment with different kinds of technology – from working in live and post-production TV studios, or the latest radio broadcast facilities.

Professional placement
In your final year you’ll have the opportunity to bring together your in-depth knowledge and skills with either an internship or professional project.

SPECIALISATIONS

There are four specialisations to choose from. If you’re not sure which to pursue, you can start with two specialisations in first-year and make a decision in second-year.

Journalism
Make the news and make stories that matter. Spanning digital, audio, video and print media, this specialisation makes use of the Monash Media Lab to give you the practical and creative skills required to excel in a rewarding journalism career.

Media
You’ll become a true media expert in today’s fast-evolving world, building skills and knowledge in media research, management, communication and policy. You’ll develop skills in media analysis that have applications across a wide range of professional contexts – from social media strategy to organisations to media management and communication, and media policy.

Public relations
You’ll learn how to research, develop, apply then evaluate communication strategies. You’ll develop global perspectives, understand the importance of the management of stakeholder relationships and reputation, acquire skills in public opinion analysis, learn to identify and manage organisational issues, and develop a crisis management plan.

This specialisation also provides you with the skills required to research, plan and implement a strategic public relations campaign. You’ll have the opportunity to work with real clients where you’ll gain insights into ethical communication practice as well as the skills needed for a professional career in communication.

Screen
Screen industries, technologies and cultures are changing faster than ever. This specialisation gives you the knowledge to understand these transformations, navigating how film, television and newer screen formats have led to and function within contemporary media ecologies.

You’ll study an extensive range of units. Looking at global and local film cultures, you’ll examine the power and influence screen has to share stories, and its ability to influence and change society.

The screen specialisation also develops your practical video production skills relevant to a broad range of media platforms and screen cultures.

BACHELOR OF MUSIC

The Sir Zelman Cowen School of Music has one of the most comprehensive music programs in the country. We excel in classical, jazz and popular music performance. Our ethnomusicology and musicology programs are world-renowned, and we have vibrant programs in composition, improvisation and creative music technology.

You’ll collaborate with international artists, learn from accomplished teaching staff, study and perform in New York or Prato, Italy, and perform to audiences across the country with an ensemble or orchestra.

How the course is structured
The course comprises 24 units. These units work through three themes and electives.

Themes
Music specialist study
Choose from one of the following specialisations:
• Music performance (classical or jazz)
• Popular music
• Composition and music technology
• Ethnomusicology and musicology.

Music theory and ear training
These units integrate the development of aural skills with the theoretical understanding of music through listening, analysis, performance, notation and composition.

Music context study
Learn about music and music-making in a variety of cultural, historical, social and professional settings.

Electives
There are eight free electives that you can take from Music, Arts, Business, IT or Science. For example, you could complement your studies with a language or marketing units from the Business school.

SPECIALISATIONS

Music performance (classical or jazz improvisation)
Available to those with strong musical aptitude in classical or jazz performance, this specialisation offers you the rigour and richness required to put you on the path to professional music performance success. You’ll acquire an assured instrumental or vocal technique and perform in a variety of ensembles, in addition to solo work. You will have the opportunity to take part in one of our study tours to New York or to the Monash Prato Centre in Italy.

Popular music
Designed for popular music performers and creators of the future. In addition to developing practical performance skills and stagecraft, you’ll learn how to engage with a broad range of tools, performance styles and contexts representative of the popular music industry. You’ll start by developing techniques and practice strategies on your principal instrument or voice across a range of musical styles and contexts. These skills will be applied in both solo and ensemble performance contexts in song-writing, live and recording environments. You’ll have the opportunity to compose music and create a live performance and recording project under the guidance of expert teachers within your chosen musical style and/or context.

In this specialisation you’ll develop skills in composition and music technology for acoustic and electronic instruments, song-writing and music for other media such as film and video games. You’ll have the opportunity to collaborate with performance students, write for visiting international artists and make your own recording projects. Through our partnership with the Melbourne Electronic Sound Studio (MESS), you’ll have access to vintage electronic equipment, and the School provides an innovative studio and recording space. Our ongoing program of local, national and international visiting artists and workshops means you’ll create established contacts with industry and be prepared for global career opportunities.

Ethnomusicology and musicology
Investigate what music is, why it exists, what it means, and how it shapes and impacts our world. You’ll study the music of different cultures, and investigate the role of music in society, music history, philosophical and aesthetic aspects of music, and performance practice. You’ll broaden your knowledge of music and the role it plays within different cultures.

What’s your next step?
In this environment, you’re encouraged to learn what you need to learn, but also jump out of the box and try something outside of your comfort zone. If anything, it’s encouraged, which is a really beautiful way for artistry and creativity to flourish.

BACHELOR OF POLITICS, PHILOSOPHY AND ECONOMICS

Developed by Monash’s world-renowned Politics, Philosophy and Economics professors, this elite program is designed for deep thinkers who want to make an impact.

After mastering the main ideas shaping our understanding of society, you’ll move on to study at the creative intersection between politics, philosophy and economics.

Having established an interdisciplinary academic foundation, you’ll engage with researchers and global leaders to hone the industry-relevant skills needed to thrive in a world defined by constant technological, environmental, political and population change.

You’ll graduate equipped with the intellectual and practical skills necessary to succeed in the century ahead.

An Industry Advisory Board guides the direction and development of the course, ensuring that all units are informed by elite insider knowledge.

Core units

The core units are designed to give you the ability to think critically about analysis, strategy and leadership.

Big Ideas in politics, philosophy and economics

Engage with the big ideas that have shaped the world and the emerging ideas that seek to alter it.

This unit introduces major ideas in Politics, Philosophy and Economics in an innovative inter-disciplinary learning environment. You’ll comprehend and analyze the inter-relationships between politics and the good life, freedom and the economy, and how we know what we know in order to behave ethically in a globalized society.

Strategic reasoning in politics, philosophy and economics

In this unit, you’ll refine structured and strategic ways of thinking about – and beyond – contemporary issues. Taking uncertainty and disruption as enduring elements of the contemporary social world, you’ll identify risks and opportunities and advance reasoned and evidence-based arguments to achieve concrete outcomes.

Politics, philosophy and economics in the world

In this year-long unit, you’ll apply your interdisciplinary knowledge to real-world scenarios in real-world locations. After completing this unit, you’ll have proven your ability to transition to high-functioning professional work by demonstrating your capacity to identify emerging issues and articulate ways beyond current impasses.

SPECIALISATIONS

Politics

The study of politics addresses important questions about the nature of power, authority and governance: who gets what, when and how. Politics also encompasses the study of notions of freedom and agency in situations of social choice.

Philosophy

Philosophy is the study of fundamental ideas about the world we live in. It questions the nature of our world, asks what constitutes a good life, and asks what we can do to make it better.

Economic analysis

Economic analysis provides an advanced understanding of the theories explaining and analyzing the production, distribution, and consumption of goods and services, with a focus on how individuals, households, firms and governments interact and how economies work.

Internships

Internships form a valuable element of this course, empowering you to gain real world experience and shape your professional networks before you’ve even graduated.

Overseas study

During your second year, you’ll have the chance to embark on a global study tour exclusive to this degree. This study tour traces the contours of the shifting economic and political power relations of the 21st century, from the Asia-Pacific to Europe. You’ll meet with and learn from academics and practitioners in the private and public sectors, gaining first-hand knowledge of the forces shaping the coming century and the diverse philosophical ideas emerging to interpret this change.

What your course will look like

You will be required to complete 12 Politics, Philosophy and Economics specialist units, 4 Analysis, Strategy and Leadership core units, and 8 electives from the politics, philosophy and economics elective list.

ANY FUTURE LEADER NEEDS TO UNDERSTAND HOW PEOPLE THINK AND HOW SOCIETIES WORK. UNDERSTANDING OUR GREAT THINKERS AND BEING ABLE TO CHALLENGE AND QUESTION THEM IS VITALLY IMPORTANT.

Areas of Study

Behavioural Studies

Available as a minor or electives

- Clayton
- Caulfield

Why choose behavioural studies?

You will develop insights into your own behaviour and motivations, as well as those of others, making you a socially aware and an interpersonally effective employee. You’ll learn how to apply social psychological principles to important problems, such as domestic violence, cyberbullying, euthanasia, eating disorders, climate change and terrorism.

Career options

- Defence
- Education
- Behavioural research
- Business management
- Media and communications
- Human resource management
- Policy
- Advertising, sales and marketing
- Philosophy
- Biomedical sciences
- Anthropology

About behavioural studies

We explore human behaviour from social, cultural and psychological perspectives. We look at the theory and research to answer important questions around why humans behave the way they do and the social issues that arise as a consequence.

Why study anthropology?

Anthropologists specialise in analysing, documenting and creating social changes, and can assist in areas such as climate change, mining, social policy, Indigenous issues and development aid.

Anthropology and travel

Anthropologists travel extensively as part of their work. Monash anthropologists have travelled to outback Australia, Indonesia, Peru, Timor-Leste and many other locations.

Career options

- Conservation and heritage work
- Multicultural affairs
- Curating and collecting work

About bioethics

We draw on philosophy, science, sociology, history, economics, law and other disciplines in the attempt to answer some of society’s most difficult and interesting questions around the ethics of things such as human cloning and enhancement, prolonging life, genetic discrimination, stem cell research, buying and selling human organs, and the publication of dangerous scientific discoveries.

Why study bioethics?

Bioethics is concerned with controversial topics that have profound implications for the future of humanity and society. It’s a field of study that’s relevant and important to everyone, and will promote development of all-purpose skills in reading, writing, oral expression and critical thinking.

The Monash Bioethics Centre

The Monash Bioethics Centre is a world-leading World Health Organization (WHO) Collaborating Centre for Bioethics, one of just seven such centres worldwide.

Career options

GLOBAL ASIA

Available as a major, minor or electives

About global Asia
An understanding of Asian countries, cultures and economies is of critical importance to all future professionals. This area of study takes an interdisciplinary approach to examine a range of issues relating to the history, politics, society, economy and culture of Asian countries, as well as individual experiences. You’ll focus particularly on China, Japan, Indonesia, Korea, Malaysia and South Asia.

Why choose global Asia?
In your first year you’ll be introduced to a relevant language (either Chinese, Indonesian, Japanese or Korean), together with a broad overview of major developments in Asia across the past 500 years. Throughout the major you’ll have access to a broad range of elective units in order to tailor your studies to match your personal and career interests.

Career options
- Government
- Non-government agencies
- Global media and journalism

HISTORY

Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About history
History at Monash is one of the largest programs in Australia, covering American, Medieval and Renaissance, European, Australian, Asian, global history and contemporary histories.

Why study history?
History is exciting, inspiring and diverse. Finding out about past peoples and societies opens up a world of fascinating stories and ideas. You’ll learn how history can inform the present and the future based on wise and unwise decisions made in the past. You’ll develop valuable skills in research, writing and forming a well-structured argument.

Career options
- Media and communications
- Foreign affairs

HUMAN RIGHTS

Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About human rights
We explore human rights law, practice and activism, which are among the most widely accepted approaches to addressing harms suffered by humans worldwide. We look at issues such as torture, hunger, military aggression, ethnic violence, political corruption and discrimination.

Why study human rights?
You’ll examine the nature and legitimacy of human rights’ claims and the role of human rights in the broader context of international affairs. You’ll investigate critical issues: Is torture ever justified? What are the rights of asylum seekers? Does the world have a responsibility for misplaced peoples? Can human rights violations justify interfering in the domestic affairs of the violating nation?

Career options
- Politics
- Advocacy
- Law
- Non-government organisations (NGOs)

- Journalism
- Government bodies and diplomacy

INDIGENOUS CULTURES AND HISTORIES

Available as major, minor or electives

Clayton

About Indigenous cultures and histories
We cover a wide range of disciplines relating to Indigenous peoples, culture, history and experiences. You’ll explore Indigenous history through units that combine anthropology, archaeology, history and heritage studies.

Why study Indigenous cultures and histories?
You’ll explore the origins and transformation of Australia’s 600 Indigenous groups that date back 50-60,000 years. You’ll learn to critically examine constructions of Indigenous and ‘Aboriginalism’, be able to recognise traditions in Indigenous studies in national contexts and apply them to real-world problems.

Working with Indigenous communities
By taking an internship you can work with Indigenous organisations around Australia and gain valuable experience through hands-on learning.

Career options
- Not-for-profit sector
- Policy in government agencies and the public service
- Aboriginal-controlled organisations in health
- Child welfare
- Heritage and ecology
- Land councils
- Teaching
- Research
- Consultancy with heritage companies

HOLOCAUST AND GENOCIDE STUDIES

Available as a minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About holocaust and genocide studies
The 20th century has been called ‘the century of genocide’, but genocide violence continues into the new millennium. This area of study asks you to reflect on why genocides happen and how people came to participate in mass violence.

Why study holocaust and genocide studies?
You’ll explore the Holocaust as a turning point in human history, along with the causes and effects of modern genocides all over the world and what’s being done to prevent them. You’ll examine themes such as trauma and testimony, the limits of representation, the survivor experience across generations and cultures, the role of the law in adjudicating war crimes, media coverage of atrocity and the failure to prevent genocide.

Career options

INDONESIAN STUDIES

Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton

About Indonesian studies
We’ve taught Indonesian studies for more than 50 years. We have one of Australia’s largest Indonesian library collections giving you the opportunity to develop a broad understanding of Indonesia and the wider world of Southeast Asia. Flexible entry points ensure you’ll study at a level that suits your language proficiency.

Why choose Indonesian studies?
Indonesia is one of the world’s largest and most diverse nations, and one of Australia’s nearest and most important neighbours. You’ll develop strong cultural literacy and intercultural communication skills, and examine the interaction of language and culture with reference to history, performing arts, journalism, literature and translation.

Overseas study opportunities
There are many opportunities to study language and culture in Indonesia for a semester or a full year. Monash is a member of the Australian Consortium for In-County Indonesian Study (ACICIS), which has specialist in-country programs in language, journalism, development studies and education.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton

About international relations
International relations is the largest subfield of political science. Our program focuses on the major challenges of global politics, including war, security and development. We ask the critical questions about world politics: Who wields power? How does power generate both security and conflict?

Why choose international relations?
You’ll gain a comprehensive understanding of the key global debates, international conflicts and global institutions. Governance, poverty and human rights are central issues alongside policy implementation within the fields of security studies, international political economy, foreign affairs and global governance. You’ll apply your critical-thinking skills to analyse innovative, problem-solving solutions to major global challenges.

Career options
- National and international diplomacy
- Humanitarian agencies
- Human rights advocacy
- Heritage and ecology
- Land councils
- Teaching
- Research

Studying at Monash Arts means understanding the world, human interaction, politics, human rights, things I previously took for granted. I can now take what I’ve learned and have a real impact on people and communities, particularly minority communities."

CHRISTINA SCHMID
Bachelor of Arts (Honours )

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES
Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About international studies
International studies examines the origins, processes and contestations of globalisation in the contemporary world. Ordinary people’s experiences and responses to global integration are at the centre of our inquiry. You’ll examine how local communities around the world embrace and also challenge aspects of globalisation.

Why choose international studies?
You’ll learn what it means to be a global citizen capable of actively engaging with a range of societies and cultures. The strength of studying international studies lies in the fact that it’s taught across multiple disciplines, allowing you to consider the most pressing issues facing the world today from different perspectives.

Career options
* Australian government
* International non-government organisations
* Media outlets
* Education providers
* Global trading firms

* Languages
* Law
* Business

ITALIAN STUDIES
Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About Italian studies
Italy is not only fashion, design and lifestyle – it has more than 70 per cent of the world’s artistic heritage with many outstanding examples of medieval, Renaissance and contemporary literature, renowned films, design and architecture. The Italian culture and language has had a significant impact on many countries worldwide through emigration.

Flexible entry points (beginners, intermediate and proficient) ensure language study at a level that suits your background.

Why choose Italian studies?
Our program offers unique opportunities to study at our Prato Centre in Italy, or go on exchange to Italian universities. You’ll develop language competence and analytical thinking, expand your knowledge of important areas of Italian culture, and become more aware of your own.

Career options
* International banking
* Teaching
* International relations
* Interpreting and translation

* Diplomatic services
* Travel and tourism
* Hospitality

JAPANESE STUDIES
Available as a major, minor or electives

Clayton, Caulfield

About Japanese studies
We have one of the most extensive Japanese study programs in Australia, engaging you with Japanese language, culture and society. Flexible entry points (beginners, intermediate and proficient) ensure language study at a level that suits your background.

Why choose Japanese studies?
Communicating in Japanese and being sensitive to diverse international contexts are useful complements to any course of study, whether it’s law, business or the visual arts. We’re cross-disciplinary which means we study Japanese from a variety of perspectives – historical, artistic, religious, political, international – especially within the broader Asian context.

Overseas opportunities
You can take advantage of numerous opportunities to study in Japan through exchange programs with prominent universities, and scholarships are available from Monash as well as the Japanese government.

Career options
* Law
* International relations
* Trade
* Corporate and tourism sectors
JEWISH STUDIES
Available as a minor or electives

About Jewish studies
You’ll gain an understanding of Jewish civilization in its many aspects — language, literature, history, theology, philosophy, rabbinic, law, politics and sociology. Jewish studies is taught by the Australian Centre for Jewish Civilisation (ACJC), an interdisciplinary centre within Monash Arts whose mission is to research and teach the significance and evolution of Jewish culture and its contributions to the world.

Why choose Jewish studies?
ACJC is known for its international internships and overseas study trips to Israel, Europe and Rwanda. Our units can be studied through exchange programs with Korea, where we have agreements with four prominent universities.

Career options
• Law and justice
• Government
• Media
• Research
• Humanitarian organisations
• Education
• Museum
• Memory conservation

KOREAN STUDIES
Available as a major, minor or electives

About Korean studies
Language teaching at Monash uses interactive and multimedia resources to bring Korean culture and language to life. You’ll be introduced to Hangul, the Korean phonetic writing system, which will enable you to type in Korean from beginner’s level onwards. Our academics are world leaders in the field of Korean history, literary studies and language education.

Why study Korean?
Korea is one of Australia’s largest trading partners, and the close political and strategic relationship between the two countries is constantly developing and expanding in a number of sectors, including trade, education and tourism. Developing a high level of linguistic and intercultural competence will give you a clear advantage when applying for jobs and it will diversify your career options.

Overseas opportunities
All students are strongly encouraged to participate in the overseas exchange programs with Korea, where we have agreements with four prominent universities.

Career options
• Trade
• Commerce
• International relations
• Tourism
• Community service

LINGUISTICS AND ENGLISH LANGUAGE
Available as a major, minor or electives

About linguistics and English language
Language is central to human life, and linguistics is the scientific study of language and its application. It explores the way we understand, acquire and use language, both spoken and written. And while it considers the diverse characteristics of individual languages, it also uncovers the deeper properties that all languages share. You’ll explore multilingualism and multilingual societies, including areas such as language and globalisation, language learning and teaching and language endangerment. You’ll also have the option to specialise in English as an international language.

Why study linguistics and English language?
Studying linguistics and English language will enable you to analyse the role of social interaction and the relationship between language, society, identity and culture. You’ll be able to communicate more effectively across cultures, and explore the ways in which language enables human thought and feeling to be revealed in sounds or written shapes, and the ways speakers and listeners navigate this process.

Career options
• Audiology
• Information technology
• Creative writing
• Journalism
• Communications
• Community service
• Law
• Immigration

JOURNALISM
Available as a major, minor or electives

About journalism
You may have heard that the role of a journalist is to uphold the fourth estate. But what does that mean? It means that you’re the one who finds the story before the rest of us realise the story is even there. You’re the one who informs us about the problems and achievements of our society; between our community and the world. There’s no more important job.

Why study journalism?
Journalism will teach you the skills to write succinctly, to a word limit and to do your research. You’ll also learn to question ideas, and to question people face-to-face. You’ll learn to think on your feet and quickly gain an understanding of an issue. It’ll also teach you to be accurate, check your sources, dig deeper and analyse data to find the next big story in the field that most interests you. You’ll learn to use the very latest technologies in our fully-equipped Monash Media Lab, one of the most advanced of its kind in Australia.

Career options
Many of our graduates will find their aspiration to become a journalist. They’ve joined metropolitan papers, the ABC and SBS, along with commercial radio, TV and digital-only outlets. Others have gone on to careers in communications, speech writing and other professions where the skills of journalism are in demand.

LITERARY STUDIES
Available as a major, minor or electives

About literary studies
Literary studies brings together people who are passionate about literature and creative writing. Through core units you’ll be exposed to different cultural and historical contexts. You’ll then have the option to take electives from either literary studies or creative writing.

Why choose literary studies?
You’ll study some of the best-known and most interesting contemporary and historical literature, including novels, poems, short stories and non-fiction. You’ll develop an advanced understanding of literature in cultural, historical and professional contexts, be able to discuss literature informed by an understanding of literary movements, themes, genres and literary theory, and be able to explain how and why literature continues to shape society.

Career options
• Creative industries
• Literary research
• Commercial publishing
• Professional and creative writing
• Literary research
• Government and cultural policy
• Arts administration
• Marketing

MUSICAL THEATRE
Available as a major, minor or electives

About musical theatre
Study the history and formal structures of the ‘musical’ with practical tuition and training in writing for musical theatre. You’ll examine key theoretical frameworks for the study of musical theatre, and embody this knowledge in practical song writing and libretto writing workshops, including sessions with leading industry professionals.

Why study musical theatre?
Providing a complete introduction to the world of musical theatre, you’ll gain in-depth, hands-on knowledge. You’ll have the opportunity to work on the creation and performance of a musical theatre piece, from exploratory workshops to full public production. In deciding and performing an original piece of musical theatre, you’ll undertake performance skills workshops in singing, dancing and technical aspects.

Career options
Studies in musical theatre will support career interests in a range of areas such as:
• Acting
• Directing
• Stage management
• Theatre administration

• Technical theatre
• Festivals
• Scriptwriting
• Teaching.

MUSIC
Available as a major, minor or electives

About music
The major in music within the Bachelor of Arts is available to students who have no previous music experience.

Career options
• Music reviewing
• Archivist
• Journalism
• Teaching
• Arts administration
• Marketing
• Media and communications

PHILOSOPHY
Available as a major, minor or electives

About philosophy
Almost everyone has been puzzled by a philosophical question at some point. For example: Is morality objective or simply a matter of opinion? What is personal identity? What is consciousness? Is it rational to believe in God? These are some of the central issues we address in philosophy.

Why study philosophy?
Philosophy students become excellent communicators, forming clear and persuasive arguments, conceiving simple ideas and developing them as independent thinkers. Philosophy studies are very popular with Arts/Laws students. You’ll be inspired to think outside the square and look at the world in a different way.

Career options
• Non-government organisations (NGOs)
• Business
• Law
• Journalism
• Policy and government departments
• Teaching
• Research

UKRAINIAN STUDIES
Available as a minor or electives

About Ukrainian studies
We’re the only university in Australia to offer Ukrainian studies. The program develops your skills in written and spoken language, and gives you the opportunity to explore the culture, history, literature and everyday life of Ukraine.

Why study Ukrainian?
Ukraine today is fascinating – it’s a place of reform under duress and an example of a linguistically, ethnically and religiously pluralist society forging a new civic identity. Ukrainian studies gives you insight into a country where some of the great issues of the contemporary world are played out in everyday politics and life.

Overseas opportunities
Apply for a Monash Abroad travel grant to study for a semester at the University of Lviv in Ukraine or another Ukrainian university. We encourage our students to take a three-week Ukrainian language and culture summer school in Ukraine in the second or third year of their studies.

Career options
• Ukrainian studies
• Australian and international business
• Management
• Medical and legal professions
• Teachers and researchers
• Media
• Public service
