

Steps to better workplace health: Linking research with policy and practice

A symposium featuring application of the latest work & health research from Monash University, University of Melbourne and University of Western Australia on:

- Workplace mental health
- Migrant worker health
- Exposures at work
- Clinical guidelines, Disease registries and Policy translation

Panel discussion with leading work & health policy makers, practitioners and service providers including Dr Alex Collie (ISCRR), Dr Deborah Vallance (AMWU), Ms Carolyn Davis (ACCI), Dr Fleur de Crespigny (SWA) and Ms Irene Verins (VicHealth).

Keynote by Assoc Prof Peter Smith

Department of Epidemiology & Preventive Medicine

“A model of knowledge, transfer & exchange in work and health research: an overview and practical application”

Wednesday, December 5th from 9 – 5pm

Venue: Lecture Theatre (Level 5) The Alfred Centre, 99 Commercial Road, Melbourne 3004

Cost: $66 per person (inc gst) - includes morning tea, lunch and afternoon reception, followed by drinks.

RSVP by 30 November 2012

Visit <http://www.coeh.monash.org/workhealthsymposium.html> for more information and to register.

email coeh@monash.edu

An initiative of a NHMRC Public Health Capacity Building Grant

