Monash Rural Health (MRH) is one of nine schools within the Faculty of Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences. The school has regional Education Centres based in East and South Gippsland, Gippsland, Bendigo and Mildura.

MRH in East & South Gippsland has Education Centres co-located at Bairnsdale Regional Health Service in Bairnsdale, Central Gippsland Health Service in Sale, and Gippsland Southern Health Service in Leongatha.

The school provides Years 2-5 curriculum delivery, along with both short and long-term clinical placements in these centres for medical students undertaking the Monash Bachelor of Medical Science and Doctor of Medicine (MD) program. The long-term placements are offered to students in Year 3B or 4C; these programs place students in one site for the entire academic year, with supported accommodation. Long-term placements are in the larger centres such as Bairnsdale, Sale or Leongatha, as well as smaller sites across the Gippsland region from Wonthaggi to Orbost.

In addition, MRH East & South Gippsland can host up to 98 students in their final year of the course, in 6 week placements in medicine, surgery, aged care, emergency care, etc., as well as hosting another 70 students from second year spending 2 weeks with the school in large groups.

The Trust

The Trust has been established in partnership with the Rotary Club of Sale and the Shires of Wellington and East Gippsland. Support grants are available to qualifying local scholars who receive an offer to study Medicine at Monash University.

The Grants are aimed at assisting with relocation costs, accommodation and curriculum text books.

THE SCHOOL

Monash Rural Health (MRH) is one of nine schools within the Faculty of Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences. The school has regional Education Centres based in East and South Gippsland, Gippsland, Bendigo and Mildura.

MRH in East & South Gippsland has Education Centres co-located at Bairnsdale Regional Health Service in Bairnsdale, Central Gippsland Health Service in Sale, and Gippsland Southern Health Service in Leongatha.

The school provides Years 2-5 curriculum delivery, along with both short and long-term clinical placements in these centres for medical students undertaking the Monash Bachelor of Medical Science and Doctor of Medicine (MD) program. The long-term placements are offered to students in Year 3B or 4C; these programs place students in one site for the entire academic year, with supported accommodation. Long-term placements are in the larger centres such as Bairnsdale, Sale or Leongatha, as well as smaller sites across the Gippsland region from Wonthaggi to Orbost.

In addition, MRH East & South Gippsland can host up to 98 students in their final year of the course, in 6 week placements in medicine, surgery, aged care, emergency care, etc., as well as hosting another 70 students from second year spending 2 weeks with the school in large groups.

THE TRUST

The Trust has been established in partnership with the Rotary Club of Sale and the Shires of Wellington and East Gippsland. Support grants are available to qualifying local scholars who receive an offer to study Medicine at Monash University.

The Grants are aimed at assisting with relocation costs, accommodation and curriculum text books.