Complementary study (Internal Monash Students) Overview
If you are currently enrolled in a Monash University degree program and wish to enrol in units offered at another tertiary institution as part of your current Monash course, you can apply for complementary study.

In assessing an application for complementary study, the faculty will consider equivalence of content and learning outcomes, and whether there is significant educational advantage for the proposed program of study.

Complementary study is normally only approved where the units selected are not offered by Monash University within a reasonable timeframe.

You must get approval from your faculty before enrolling in any units. If approved, the complementary units will be included on your official Monash transcript.

Unit details

You must attach syllabus information for the units that you wish to study at another institution, containing the information listed in step 2.

Enrolment – additional information

DO NOT enrol at another institution until you have received written notification from your faculty stating the outcome of your application.

Approval from Monash does not necessarily mean that the application will be approved by the host institution.

You must seek approval from your faculty at Monash to vary your enrolment at the host institution

It is important to remember that standard census dates apply to complementary studies unit(s). If you are discontinuing your complementary studies you must do so at both Monash and the host institution to avoid fees and fail grades. You need to discontinue your Monash complementary units using an Enrolment Amendment form as you cannot discontinue the units via WES.

Results – important information

It is your responsibility to submit a certified statement of results from the host institution to the faculty office on your home campus within six weeks of results release. Failure to supply this statement will result in a 'Fail' result being recorded against the complementary study units. Your result will appear on your Monash transcript against the special complementary unit code as either SFR (Satisfied Faculty Requirements) or Fail.

Fees

Fees for the unit(s) are payable to the host institution irrespective of whether the host university gives you a Commonwealth Supported Place (CSP) or Full Fee place. Additional information can be accessed at:

www.monash.edu.au/enrolments/change

NOTE: If you are a CSP pre-2008 or pre-2010 student at Monash University and you are given a CSP at your host institution you will need to make special application with your host institution to be considered as a pre-2008 or pre-2010 student.
