

SUMMER STUDY OPTIONS

2020/2021

Each year, we run a popular summer semester from November to February. This year, we've expanded our summer study options with our new November intake. This 12-week teaching period starts in November and is open to both new and continuing students.

If you'd like to fast-track your course progression or catch-up on units, these teaching periods are great opportunities to keep studying outside of the standard University semesters.

2020/2021

Whether you're overseas or in Australia, Monash provides you with flexibility and choice.

There are hundreds of unit offerings available for students to progress their studies this summer.

Our 2020/2021 Summer Study Options can help you fast-forward your degree timeline or catch up on units you may have missed in the past. The choice is yours.

HOW TO USE THIS BOOKLET

The tables in this booklet summarise the list of units offered across our Summer Study period. This includes units offered in the November intake, Summer A and Summer B teaching periods.

You can browse by Faculty and study year level and click on the links for more information.

Please note that the list was current at time of publication (20/10/20) and is subject to change.

NOVEMBER INTAKE

These units are offered as part of the November intake. Please note that teaching for this intake commences on 2 November.

SUMMER A

Teaching for these units commences on 1 November 2020 and ends in mid February 2021

SUMMER B

Teaching for these units commences on 1 January 2021 and ends in mid February 2021

TEACHING MODE SUMMER

There are several expected study modes for the Monash University Summer Study period. How students study depends on location and relevant government advice and restrictions associated with COVID-19. Blended mode reflects this evolving situation and may indicate online, face-to-face on-campus (where appropriate) and/or a mix of both.

SUMMER A AND B

Monash University is planning to provide on-campus study for students in semester one 2021. This is subject to State and Federal government requirements. It is expected that this will be in a blended mode with a mix of on-campus and online teaching and activities aligned with COVID-19 Safe requirements.

The recommencement of the safe, full reactivation of our Australian campuses is subject to required milestones being met and public health advice. We will continue to update the Monash community accordingly.

Please check with your faculty about the expected study mode for your chosen unit.
