Graduates from Monash University or from an institution that has amalgamated with Monash University, may apply for a replacement testamur if their original has been lost, stolen or damaged. Graduates who have changed their name may also apply for a testamur to reflect their name change.

Lost or stolen
If your testamur has been lost or stolen a statutory declaration affirming and detailing the loss or theft of the document must accompany the application form.

Graduates residing in countries that don't have Statutory Declarations in their legal system, should prepare a statement that’s witnessed and stamped/sealed by a notary public, police officer, magistrate, solicitor or Australian Consulate official.

Damaged
If you require a replacement testamur because your original testamur is damaged, we require the damaged testamur. Please return it with this form. A replacement testamur cannot be issued if the original is still in your possession.

Change of name
If you have changed your name and wish to reflect this on your testamur, you should return your previous testamur with proof of your change of name and this application form. Accepted forms of proof include:

- a) certified copies of birth certificate, marriage certificate, passport, divorce decree, or change of name decree.
- b) statutory declaration (transgender graduates only).

Format
The replacement testamur will be issued in the current format. For a lost, stolen or damaged testamur the replacement testamur will have the words This is a replacement degree. Testamurs requested for a change of name will have the words This is to certify that in the body of the text. Both testamurs will include the original graduation date and the replacement date.

Signatories to the replacement testamur may be different from those on the original testamur.

Submitting your application
Applications can be submitted in person to Monash Connect on your campus. See monash.edu/connect/locations

Alternatively, you can post it to:
Monash Connect
