Common Ground: Australia - Korea Creative Practices (AKCPD) In Dialogue Symposium in Seoul 2024

How do the rapid transformations in our cities and climate pose challenges to those working in the design- and built- environments? Common Ground AKCPD is a response to these issues; a dialogue between contemporary Korean and Australian architects and other creative practitioners.

Starting from the position that art and architecture can be seen as the connective tissue between multiple contemporary concerns and disciplines, Common Ground AKCPD is a cross cultural exchange where artists and architects discuss each other's practices. This dialogue aims to mutually enhance and develop each artist's practice around issues facing urban and natural environments.
