BOOKING INSTRUCTIONS FOR HOTELS, APARTMENTS AND ROOMS

Direct Booking:

Always book directly with the accommodation provider. Avoid third-party booking platforms whenever possible. Direct bookings often provide better rates and personalised service.

Event Mention:

When making a reservation, mention that you are attending an event at Monash University. This helps the accommodation staff understand your purpose and may lead to special arrangements or discounts.

Payment method:

Many properties accept payment through the Coupa portal used by Monash University. Please check at the time of booking if this method of payment is accepted.

Please be aware that Palazzo Goggi is the only property that can be booked through online booking intermediaries. For all other properties, including hotels, please book directly with the property management. To prevent cancellation fees, book as soon as possible and negotiate a release date. The release date is the deadline for you to confirm who will be coming and when the deposit needs to be paid.

If the participants are booking directly and paying, please advise them to mention that they are attending a conference at the Monash Prato Centre. They will benefit from the special rates reserved for Monash guests and ensure a smooth booking process.

Accessibility:

Prato is a charming medieval town with many historic buildings. However, it's important to note that some of these buildings do not have lifts.

If you're booking accommodation for someone with mobility difficulties, make sure to double-check whether there is a lift available.

At present, the only hotels in Prato that are equipped with facilities suitable for wheelchair users are Hotel President and Hotel Giugni.
