Nurture the next generation of leaders

Develop new ways to teach
THREE WAYS TO BECOME A TEACHER

There are different paths to becoming a qualified teacher. You choose the steps to take and Monash will help you get there.

1. Bachelor of Education (Honours)
   Qualify as a teacher after four years* of study. Focus on a single sector (e.g. primary education) or gain a dual-sector qualification (e.g. early years and primary education).

2. Bachelor of Education (Honours) studied as a double degree
   Combine your studies in education with a second course to build a qualification that’s as diverse as your interests.
   You’ll graduate after four years* with two degrees instead of one.

3. Degree in another discipline followed by a Master of Teaching
   If you’ve already completed a bachelor’s degree in another discipline, then you can complete the two-year Master of Teaching.

*This is a 4.25-year course taken as an accelerated course, where you’ll do the equivalent of 4.25 years of study in four calendar years.
80+

Experience teaching placements
Put your learning into practice by completing at least 80 days of professional experience. You can stay local or head overseas, you can be in a classroom or an integral part of a community program – the choices are endless and all yours. Build your confidence and gain real-world experience so you’re job-ready when you graduate.

1+1

Dual-sector specialisations
The Monash advantage allows you to specialise in two educational sectors, further broadening your career opportunities. We offer four dual-sector specialisations:
> Early years and primary education
> Primary and secondary education
> Primary and secondary inclusive education
> Primary and secondary health and physical education

Honours puts you ahead
Whichever specialisation you choose, you’ll graduate with an honours degree. With Monash, you’ll be ready to take a leading role in your chosen education setting and teaching field.

Reputation for excellence
Monash Education is ranked No.1 in Australia*, and is ranked in the top 15 in the world.
 QS World University Rankings by Subject 2018.

Professional accreditation
Our courses are accredited by the Australian Children’s Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA) and the Victorian Institute of Teaching (VIT). This means, when you graduate, you’ll have the qualifications to be an early childhood educator or a registered teacher in Victoria.

Double your potential
A double degree course is a great option if you’re interested in a teaching career but also want to broaden your expertise in another discipline. You’ll increase your career options and deepen your understanding of the areas you intend to teach.

If you want to teach interstate or overseas, you should check the registration requirements with local authorities.

Gain a global perspective
Complete an international professional placement in China, Cook Islands, England, Israel, Italy, Japan, Malaysia, Netherlands, Switzerland, United Arab Emirates or Vietnam.
With the Monash Bachelor of Education (Honours), you can choose from eight areas of specialisation. These reflect the age ranges of the students you want to teach, and you’ll graduate with a degree that highlights your expertise.

“When I was in Year 12, I went to Monash’s Open Day and I was instantly hooked by the surroundings and atmosphere. The faculty is very supportive to every one of its students. Library workshops, consultations and focus group meetings definitely make your life easier at uni. The faculty also provides a help desk for students who need help in English, which is especially beneficial for international students like me.”
