Aims of Monash MPavilion

MPavilion 2017 at Monash University is an event hub and a cultural laboratory in which to experiment and experience.

Monash MPavilion is a free bookable venue for interested staff, students or members of the wider community.

The Monash MPavilion aims to celebrate and showcase creativity, innovation and culture within Monash and the wider community.

The space is available to host a range of events and creative offerings - from lectures, to workshops, installations, performance and open rehearsals.

A leading example of dynamic architecture where creative minds can foster new ideas, the MPavilion 2017 is a vibrant addition to the Monash University community.

MPavilion 2017 History

The fourth MPavilion arrived in spring 2017 in the City of Melbourne, designed by the Netherlands–based Architects OMA/Rem Koolhaas and David Gianotten. Designed as a contemporary amphitheatre, the MPavilion 2017 is the fourth MPavilion from a series of outstanding architectural commissions for Melbourne, leading the cities conversations on design and architecture.

Today, MPavilion 2017 has a permanent home at Monash University Clayton, and is a creative incubator with a focus on innovation, research, sustainability and inclusivity. A meeting place for students and community, the Monash MPavilion will continue the vision of the Naomi Milgrom Foundation, the City of Melbourne, and internationally renowned architecture firm the Office of Metropolitan Architects (OMA).

For more information on MPavilion, please visit the MPavilion website.
Specifications

MPavilion 2017 at Monash University is a single storey, contemporary, flexible, sheltered amphitheatre, with a focus on participatory design.

It is located near the entrance to Monash Clayton Campus at 29 Ancora Imparo Way, near the corner of Scenic Boulevard.

- MPavilion 2017 provides seating for approximately 180 people.
- All events hosted in the Monash MPavilion must be free of charge to attendees. Hirers cannot sell tickets for their events hosted at MPavilion 2017.
- Food and drink are permitted in the space – for ideas check out our range of Monash on-campus caterers. We ask however that no barbecues are held in the space.
- Hirers must provide their own bins for the duration of their event.
- A section of the tiered seating can be rotated to face into the amphitheatre or out towards the surrounding lawns by Campus experience and major events staff. 48 hours notice is required.
- While the space is open, it can be booked 24 hours a day at any time of year. Noise levels should be kept to a reasonable level at all hours.
- 240 Volt and Three-phase power outlets are available on site.
- The closest bathrooms are across the road in the Education building, 29 Ancora Imparo Way.
- Users are responsible for cleaning the Monash MPavilion after use.
- The lights and audio in MPavilion 2017 can be adjusted by the Campus Experience and Major events team. For A/V requests, please email campuslife@monash.edu

How to book

For booking inquiries, please email your request to Monash University Venues at muv@monash.edu