The curriculum of Monash University is a 'stretch' curriculum

- It is social, ethical and discovery-based
- Discovery will be research-inspired—it will happen early and often throughout the degree
- Every student will have an international experience even if they never leave their home campus
- All students will explore the creative bridges between disciplines
- Education will be challenging in terms of its depth and breadth
- Learning will be social and empowered by the best use of technology
- All of this will come together through the Monash Passport to focus strongly upon the world outside the campus
