Returning for an extended follow-up seminar, the panel will examine the legal issues that arise in the offering of tokens in an initial coin offering.

The case study concerns an Australian skier, Bruce Bomber, who purchases MILK tokens, issued by Maltese incorporated Thin Ice & Co, for the White Out ski resort in Buttermilk, Colorado.

The panel will consider some of the issues highlighted in Part 1 including:

- How is the nature of a token determined?
- Is a token a financial product?
- Who is responsible for offering, issuing, marketing or holding a token?
- What obligations might be owed by a person involved in the process of selling, holding or operating an exchange for tokens and to whom?
- When might a cause of action be brought in Australia?

Please note, this seminar is an independent second part in a two-part series. Attendees of this seminar need not have attended the first seminar.

SEMINAR DETAILS

DATE
Wednesday 27 March 2019

TIME
5pm – 6.30pm

VENUE
Monash University Law Chambers,
555 Lonsdale St, Melbourne

COST
Free

RSVP
Monday 25 March (unless booked out prior) online at: https://goo.gl/forms/qxA4JfF7195LDly1

CHAIR
The Honourable Justice Michael Sifris
Supreme Court of Victoria

PRESENTERS
Hannah Glass
King & Wood Mallesons

Alex King
King & Collins

Adjunct Professor Mark Sneddon
Holley Nethercote, Sneddon Legal and Monash University

Barristers, solicitors and interested clients are encouraged to attend.

FURTHER INFORMATION
https://bit.ly/2Ca5wKk