

Monash-SEU Joint PhD Guideline

Monash University

Combining world-leading teaching, research, facilities and experience, Monash University (“Monash”) ranks 55th globally in the QS World University Rankings 2021 and 75th in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings 2020. It is a founding member of the Group of 8, comprised of Australia’s leading universities.

Monash is one of the most internationally-focused universities in Australia (ranking 21st in the World’s Most International Universities in 2017 as released by Times Higher Education), with campuses and teaching locations across Australia, Malaysia, China, India, and Italy. It provides its students with wide-ranging opportunities for international exchange and study tours, in partnership with more than 100 universities across 30 countries. With extensive research collaborations and alliances across the United Kingdom, North America, Europe and Africa, Monash’s graduates possess a unique combination of leadership, entrepreneurial skills, and a global perspective.

To learn more about Monash, please refer to the website: <https://www.monash.edu/>.

Monash Suzhou

Monash is the first Australian university approved by the Chinese Ministry of Education to jointly open a graduate school in China in partnership with Southeast University (SEU), China. On this basis, it establishes Monash Suzhou in Suzhou Industrial Park, which is now composed of SEU-Monash Joint Graduate School (JGS) and Joint Research Institute (JRI), Monash-Suzhou Research Institute (MSRI) and Monash Engineering and Technology Company. To date, the JGS has developed 9 double masters programs including Industrial Design, Interpreting and Translation Studies, International Business, Transportation Systems, Civil Engineering, Industrial Chemical Engineering, Information Technology Systems, Artificial Intelligence and Health Data. The JRI and MSRI have established six centres including Future cities, Energy and Environment, Advanced Materials and Manufacturing, Advanced Computation in Science and Engineering, Life (Medical/Bio) Science and Global Business.

For details, please refer to the website: <https://www.monash.edu/suzhou/>.

Southeast University

Southeast University (SEU) is one of the national key universities in China, listed among the universities of Project 211 and Program 985, and now the first-rate universities. It is a comprehensive and research-oriented university, boasting 33 and 49 disciplines, respectively authorized by the Ministry of Education, China, to confer PhD and master degrees. Among its >30,000 enrolments, about half of them are higher degree research students. SEU is highly regarded not only in China but also worldwide, particularly in science and engineering. It has cooperation with more than 150 universities and research institutes, including the strategic partnership with Monash University.

Monash-SEU Joint PhD Program

The Monash-SEU Joint PhD Program facilitates collaborative research between Monash and SEU researchers, with students benefiting from undertaking a research project that draws upon the unique research strengths of both universities.

1. Key Information for Students

1.1 Admission to Doctoral Enrolment

All applicants must meet Monash’s minimum Academic Qualifications and English Language Proficiency for PhD admission, as outlined on the following webpages: <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources/content/chapter-two/2-1>; and <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources/content/chapter-two/2-2>

To apply, please submit an application to your proposed Home Institution. Your Home Institution will assist you in completing all relevant documents, including the Joint Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) Southeast University and Monash University Form and Joint PhD Student Schedule. These documents will be forwarded to the Host Institution for consideration.

An application for the Monash-SEU Joint PhD Program requires approval from both Monash and Southeast Universities.

1.2 Conditions of Enrolment

Conditions of enrolment at Monash are available at: <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources/content/chapter-three>

The period of study is given below:

Full-time PhD	3 years	1 year (at least)	4 years

*The Home Institution is the university at which the student spends the greater amount of time.

The Host Institution is the university at which the student spends the lesser amount of time.

The completion of a PhD study will depend on research achievement, not the enrolment time.

1.3 Progress Management, Thesis and Examination Requirements

Progress management requirements are outlined below:

Confirmation	Progress Review	Final Review
To be completed at 12 months equivalent full time after the commencement	To be completed at 24 months equivalent full time after the commencement	To be completed at 36 months equivalent full time after the commencement

The student's thesis is to be written in English, with examiners to submit a written assessment of the thesis in English. More details on thesis requirements and examination are available at: <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources/content/chapter-seven/7-1>.

1.4 Scholarship, Tuition and Other Fees

Where SEU is the Home Institution, students should contact SEU for scholarship opportunities, including tuition fees information. A living allowance (or top-up) scholarship may be available to eligible students while undertaking their period of time at Monash Australia.

Where Monash is the Home Institution, students should refer to <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/study/scholarships> for scholarship opportunities, including tuition fees information.

2. Key Information for Supervisors

A student should have at least one Monash supervisor and one SEU supervisor.

Supervisors are required to follow the relevant rules and regulations at Monash and SEU, including roles and responsibilities as outlined in Monash's Graduate Research Supervision Policy and procedures: https://www.monash.edu/__data/assets/pdf_file/0009/1583226/Graduate-Research-Supervision-Policy.pdf and <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources>

3. Special Conditions

- Admission into this program must be approved by both universities. The student must be enrolled at Monash and SEU from the commencement of their candidature unless otherwise approved by both Monash and SEU, maintaining enrolment at both universities.
- Upon completion of the Joint PhD program, a Doctor of Philosophy (or its equivalent) will be awarded by both parties. The testamur (certificate) will acknowledge the SEU-Monash partnership.

4. Additional Information

In addition to the information mentioned above, students and supervisors are required to comply with relevant PhD requirements at Monash and SEU. For Monash information, refer to the Monash University Handbook for Doctoral Degrees at: <https://www.monash.edu/graduate-research/faqs-and-resources/content>.
