

Appendix A: Trial 1: Comparing Paper-Referral and ePortal Practice Implementation, Secure Practice ePortal

The screenshot shows the Refer a Smoker.org website. At the top right, there is a "LOG OUT" button. The main header includes the site name "Refer a Smoker.org" and the text "Funded by the National Institutes of Health". A left sidebar contains a menu with items: Home, Quick Start Guide, Help Desk, Send a Message, Practice Report, Educational Materials, and Information Prescription. The central content area is titled "Refer Your Smokers" and contains a form with the instruction "Please enter the email address of the smoker you want to refer and click the blue button". Below the form is a large blue button labeled "Refer a Smoker" and a link "Click here to refer multiple smokers". To the right, a "Practice Report Summary" box displays statistics: "Total smokers referred (ALL Practices): 4284", "Total smokers referred (YOUR practice): 75", "Your referrals who visited the patient site most recently: test1@umassmed.edu, test2@umassmed.edu, test3@umassmed.edu", and "Your smokers referred who have not gone: 68". It also includes a link "Send a Message to your patients" and a "Go to Practice Report" button. Below this is a "News" section with three links: "Recommendations and evidence for Specialized Assessment", "Recommendations and Evidence for Screening and Assessment", and "Tobacco Use Treatments are Cost Effective", followed by a "Go to News" button. The footer contains the text "Who funded this site? | Contact Us".
