SCOPE
This procedure applies to the below candidates who received an unsuccessful promotion decision for Level B - lecturer or research fellow, Level C - senior lecturer or senior research fellow, Level D - associate professor or associate professor (research) and Level E - professor or professor (research).
For the purpose of this procedure, such candidates are herein collectively referred to as ‘you’.

PROCEDURE STATEMENT
Unsuccessful promotion candidates may appeal the unsuccessful decision by lodging an application for rehearing. The sole ground for appeal is a procedural irregularity resulting in a material disadvantage in the unsuccessful promotion decision. An appeal is not available based on the merit of the decision alone.

1. Appealing the unsuccessful promotion decision
1.1 To appeal your promotion decision, you must:
   • seek advice and further information on the reason(s) for the decision not to promote, from the Dean or in Malaysia from the Pro-Vice-Chancellor and President (Malaysia) for faculty applications or the Provost (or their delegated nominee) for Level E or non-faculty applications;
   • submit your appeal application (and supporting information) within 20 working days after receipt of notification of the decision of the original application to the Chief Human Resources Officer in Monash HR, Australia (hr-academic.promotion@monash.edu);
   • include in your appeal application:
     − details of the procedural irregularity
     − details of the consequent material disadvantage in the unsuccessful promotion decision;
     − evidence in support of the grounds of appeal (where available); and
     − a copy of the promotion decision letter;
1.2 Your application will be reviewed within 14 days of lodgement by the relevant reviewers to determine if there is a prima facie case for a promotion rehearing.

2. Level B appeals
2.1 The Provost and Senior Vice-President (reviewer) will review the initial promotion application and make a final determination of the application decision. Where the Provost and Senior Vice President was the ‘approver’ of an original application, the reviewer will be the President and Vice-Chancellor (or nominee).
2.2 Your application will be reviewed within 14 days of your submission.
2.3 The outcome of your promotion appeal will be notified to you within fourteen (14) days of the decision.
2.4 The decision of the reviewer is final, and there is no further appeal.
