Structured workshop abstract (Max 150 words)	What is your workshop about? Write a paragraph to set the scene on the importance of your topic. Educational researchers need to think strategically about their work and the publishing process. High quality papers may be rejected if researchers fail to carefully plan and appeal to editors and reviewers alike. This workshop aims to develop participants' strategic and persuasive skills and abilities relevant for both writing and the overall publishing process.
	What does it mean for the participants? Write a paragraph to pitch your workshop to the participants - how does the topic translate into practice? Participants should attend this workshop if they seek to improve manuscript acceptance rates, as well as increasing their publishing footprint through citations and other impact markers. These outcomes are important for visibility of scholarly work, professional development as authors, and mentoring of students and peers.
	What will the participants do in your workshop? List the timing of the workshop activities. For example, Introduction and context setting (10 min), small group task defining professional development needs of education research staff (15 min), small group report back to main group (10 min), etc. Introduction (15 minutes) Small Group Brainstorm (15 minutes) Collaborative Large Group Strategic Pathway Development (20 minutes) Wrap-up and Impact Discussion (10 minutes)
