You may complete specialisation units, research-integrated electives, or law elective units in any sequence throughout your degree.

These units are offered throughout the year and across a number of different teaching periods. Please refer to the Faculty of Law current students webpage for details of the postgraduate elective timetable.

Specialisation Requirements

To graduate with a specialisation in a legal discipline, you must complete five units (equivalent to 30 credit points) from the same specialisation area.

This must include:

- Three specialisation law units (18cp), and
- Two research-integrated elective units (12cp).

If you choose not to pursue a specialisation, you are only required to complete two research-integrated elective units, totalling 12 credit points, to meet the course requirements.

Please view the L6004 Master of Laws via the Handbook page for links to the specialisations and units.
