You may complete specialisation units, research-integrated electives, or law elective units in any sequence throughout your degree.

These units are offered throughout the year and across a number of different teaching periods. Please refer to the Faculty of Law current students webpage for details of the postgraduate elective timetable.

Specialisation Requirements

To graduate with a specialisation in a legal discipline, you must complete five units (equivalent to 30 credit points) from the same specialisation area.

This must include:

- Three specialisation law units (18cp), and
- Two research-integrated elective units (12cp).

If you choose not to pursue a specialisation, you are only required to complete two research-integrated elective units, totalling 12 credit points, to meet the course requirements.

Please view the L6013 Master of Legal Studies via the Handbook page for links to the specialisations and units.
